Moscow Challenges Jap Report Sinking Was Done by U. S. Undersea Raiders

Message Is Sent Tokyo Lauds Admiral. Tries to Cover Losses at Midway

(By the Associated Press) Smoldering friction between Russia and Japan was fanned anew today as Moscow bluntly challenged Tokyo's claim that a United States submarine had torpedoed a Soviet merchant ship, and pinned the attack on a Japanese undersea raider.

The Soviet radio quoted survivors as saying that two Japanese submarines surfaced immediately after the 4,761-ton S. S. Angartstroi was sunk 32 miles off the Japanese coast on May 1. Japan had charged the sinking was an American attempt to create friction between the Soviet union and Japan... obviously timed for provoking trouble.

"This version does not coincide with the facts," the Russian broadcast said. Crewmen of a Russian freighter at Sydney, Australia, said they were attacked three times recently by a submarine believed to be Japanese.

Although formally bound by a neutrality and friendship pact, Russia and Japan have several times warned each other against such provocative "incidents" which might lead to hostilities on a new front in the global war.

Would Cover Defeat

Meanwhile, Japan sought to cover up the humiliating defeat in the battle of Midway by sending a message to Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, commander in chief of the combined Japanese fleet, lauding "brilliant successes... over a vast area of the eastern Pacific Ocean since June 4 despite stormy weather."

A similar message was sent to the supreme commander of Japanese ground forces in the eastern Pacific, whose name was not disclosed.

The silence on the latter's identity was significant because the message evidently applied to the Japanese invasion of the Aleutians and it is Japan's invariable rule to keep secret the names of commanders in specific zones until their operations are successful.

Chinese dispatches said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's armies had moved into position south of Nanchang, in southern Kiangsi Province, and were preparing to assault the city.

Nanchang is the farthest point the Japanese have reached in a drive toward neighboring Fukien Province.

Sharp fighting also raged near Lishui, the site of China's best remaining air base in Chekiang Province.

In the battle of Australia, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that Allied fliers, breaking a five-day lull in southwest Pacific fighting, attacked three Japanese invasion bases and set fires visible 60 miles at sea.

The attacks centered on Rabaul, enemy-held chief port of New Britain, in New Guinea, and Dili, Timor Island.

Allied interceptors broke up a large force of Japanese zero fighters as the enemy attempted to raid Port Moresby, Allied base in New Guinea, and seriously damaged five Jap fighters.

Five Sentenced to Die

Vichy, June 26 (AP)—Five persons, one of whom is at large, were sentenced today by a Paris tribunal to death on the guillotine, six to life imprisonment at hard labor and four to prison terms of from five to 20 years on charges of participating in food riots. They were said to have figured in disorders at a grocery on the left bank of the Seine on May 31.

Suffers Loss of Leg

Charles Czerwinski of the Rosendale road, who suffered a leg injury when his motorcycle struck and fatally injured William M. Davis, veteran automobile dealer, in Washington avenue, was reported in fair condition today at the Rosendale Hospital. It was found necessary Thursday to amputate the injured leg between the knee and the ankle.

4,000 Airplanes, 1,500 Tanks Made in May

F.D.R. Releases Figures and Reports 2,000 Artillery, Anti-Tank Guns, 50,000 Machine Guns Made

Washington, June 26 (AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed today that America's mighty war effort, in the single month of May, had turned out nearly 4,000 planes and more than 1,500 tanks.

Releasing official war production figures for the first time since Pearl Harbor, the Chief Executive asserted in a statement that this country also turned out nearly 2,000 artillery and anti-tank guns in May, and these were exclusive of anti-aircraft guns and those to be mounted in tanks.

The May output of machine guns exceeded 50,000 weapons of all types, including infantry, aircraft and anti-aircraft. If submarine guns are added on, the total passes 100,000.

Mr. Roosevelt released these figures because, he said, they are going to give the Axis just the opposite of "aid and comfort."

"We are well on our way," he declared, "towards achieving the rate of production which will bring us to our goals."

The last announced objectives of the war production program, told of in the President's annual message to Congress last January, were 185,000 planes in 1942 and 1943, 120,000 tanks, 55,000 anti-aircraft guns.

The Chief Executive, in citing the May figures, warned against over confidence, he said: "While these figures give you some idea of our production accomplishments, this is no time for the American people to get over confident. We can't rest on our oars. We need more and more, and we will make more and more."

"And we must also remember that there are plenty of serious production problems ahead—particularly some serious shortages in raw materials, which are receiving the closest consideration of the government and industry."

The distribution of the production figures coincided with continuing Anglo-American war strategy conferences—conferences in which the White House said Russian officials and experts had been playing a significant part.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said the Russians had figured in the parleys from the beginning and still did.

The Russian ambassador, Maxim Litvinoff, President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Secretary of State Hull have held "extended and most important conferences," Early said.

"The meeting with Ambassador Litvinoff," he added, "was another of the series of conferences in which over-all and detailed surveys are being made. The conferences with military, naval and air officers, meaning those of the United States, Great Britain and Russia, are taking place simultaneously."

Basic 'Gas' Unit To Be 4 Gallons In Eastern States

Detailed Instructions Are Given to Speed Public Registration Through School Districts

Washington, June 26 (AP)—Instructions for the new gasoline rationing program in eastern states, disclosing officially that the basic unit would be four gallons, were issued by the Office of Price Administration today.

The unit is subject to change "in accordance with any change in the east's petroleum supply situation," O. P. A. said in releasing a 13-page booklet on the coupon plan which starts July 22 in 17 states and the District of Columbia.

To eliminate delays and congestion such as marked registration for the emergency ration plan in some cities, O. P. A. laid down detailed instructions to expedite registration at public schoolhouses July 9-11 inclusive. Teachers were advised: "Do not argue or carry on long conversations with the applicant."

Only the basic, minimum-value A cards will be issued at first. Each will contain 48 coupons, designed to provide 2,880 miles of driving for a year, on the basis of 15 miles to the gallon.

To get B or C books providing for supplemental rationing motorists will have to apply to local ration boards, and there show that the A book will not meet their occupational driving needs.

Applications for B and C cards will be available at the registration places. They may be mailed or

Port Ewen Man, 57, of River Road Found Lying on Highway This Morning

Harry Gray, 57, who with his wife made his home on the River Road at Port Ewen, met his death, supposedly, around 1 o'clock this morning, when he was struck by a truck or automobile and left lying on the northbound strip of highway 9-W, near the cemetery at Port Ewen.

The body was discovered by Richard Gordon of West Park, who was on his way home some time after 1 o'clock. Gordon stopped his car and went back to look at the body. He saw that the man apparently was dead and then walked south to stop a large trailer truck that was approaching on the northbound lane. The truck continued on, however, and ran over the body before the driver brought it to a stop.

Meanwhile Gordon was brought by a passing motorist to Kingston and reported the accident to the police department, which notified the sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff Belmore and Vreeland went to the scene, as did Deputy Sheriff Tinnie of Port Ewen. Troopers Metzger and Baker of the B. C. I. also joined in the investigation.

When the deputies arrived they found that the truck which passed over the body and then stopped had gone on, and its identity was not immediately obtainable. There also was no evidence as to the identity of the car or truck that had struck Gray and left him lying where he was found by Gordon.

Coroner Frank J. McCordle, who had been notified, took the body to his undertaking parlors in Rosendale where, under direction of District Attorney Haver an autopsy was performed this morning by Dr. J. S. Taylor and Dr. D. S. Meyers of Kingston. It disclosed that Gray's skull and in-

Men Who Get Rubber in Amazon's Jungles Are Fully on Their Own

By JOHN LEAR

Washington, June 26 (Wide World)—A new war front, where the men must advance entirely on their own as individual units, has been opened right here in the western hemisphere.

Like Commandos or parachute troops, the men whose job is to find rubber in the Amazon jungle of Brazil and bring it out for the United States fighting machine must rely on themselves.

First they must cut their way from Amazon tributaries (up which they are brought on small boats) through the tangled tropical undergrowth to the hevea tree whence comes the white milk which is rubber. For this they carry machetes, heavy cleaver-like knives a yard long.

Their circuits through the forest take many days, sometimes weeks, and they must provide themselves with food. For this they carry shotguns, knives and fishhooks.

After they find the rubber trees, they must tap the bark and catch and prepare the liquid rubber in sheets. For this they carry more knives, spouts to carry the rubber from the bark after the flow begins, cups to catch the rubber as it drops from the spouts, cloth on which to spread the liquid, wringers to flatten the sheets into uniform strength and thickness, and files to sharpen all the other tools.

And the rubber tappers work and live in the midst of mosquitoes, which spread malaria. Against these, the tappers carry medical tablets.

Dr. Earl N. Bressman, director of the agricultural division of the office of inter-American affairs, recently told a United States Senate committee that a preliminary equipment order from Brazil included 5,000 tapping cups, 5,000 machetes, 10,000 files, 5,000 shotguns, 250,000 shotgun shells and 3,000,000 anti-malaria tablets.

Getting the equipment is no simple matter. Concentration of United States industry on war production has reduced manufacturing capacity for other work. Metals largely have been diverted to war use.

Rubber is so vital to war, however, that equipment for the rub-

Thousand Anglo Planes Raid Bremen As Germans Slash at Russia, Move Nearer to Showdown Battle for Egypt

War in Europe Is In Decisive Phase, Experts Declare

Germans Offer Bleak Prospect, but There Are Bright Spots for Allied Cause

Washington, June 26 (AP)—Military experts, taking a grave view of the Allied situation in North Africa, said today that the war in Europe was entering a potentially decisive phase with Germany at the point of making her long-awaited all-out drive against Russia.

The next few days, one authority said, should show whether the great battle on the Russian front has in fact already begun in the operations at Kharkov and Sevastopol, or whether those were preliminary actions-in-force for the main campaign which would then certainly be undertaken by the Germans with little delay.

Germany, it was generally believed here, would try for a series of successes so smashing that by next fall or winter she would be able to follow up with either an attempt at invading Britain or a negotiated peace with her foes in Europe.

The end result of either course, if successful, would be to deprive the United States and the remaining Allied nations scattered over the earth of both invaluable allies and effective bases from which to strike back at the Axis in Europe in 1943.

Offsetting this bleak prospect, as the Nazis would have the world see it, were these considerations from the United Nation's point of view:

The heroic record of resistance made by the Russians to date in their year-old war with Germany and the predictions of officials familiar with their fighting spirit and military efficiency that they never would be defeated.

Prime Minister Churchill's confident assertion, reported by legislators who conferred with him and President Roosevelt yesterday, that Egypt can and will be held.

Formal creation of a European theatre of operations for the U. S. forces in Europe. While in itself this was purely an organizational move, it indicates the likelihood of early and powerful American action against Germany directly.

British Have Good Chances at Matruh

Nazi Communication Lines Are Vulnerable Due to Great Distance

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Wide World War Analyst)

The fate of Egypt, and the broader interlocking issue of control of the all-important Middle East, is being written by now in the hot sands of the desert before the British coastal stronghold of Matruh which guards the approach to the mighty naval base of Alexandria and the Suez Canal.

Nazi Marshal Rommel, racing eastward against time in an effort to trap the defeated British eighth army, before it has a chance to reorganize, contacted the enemy covering forces thirty miles west of Matruh this morning, presaging a quick joining of the main battle. We should know soon whether General Ritchie has had sufficient time to realign his weary forces after their retreat and to move into his defensive line the reinforcements which reportedly are arriving.

It is a momentous hour, British Premier Churchill is quoted as having said yesterday in Washington that Britain would hold out that there was no danger of losing Egypt and Suez. One takes the liberty of assuming that the Prime Minister didn't mean literally that the danger didn't exist, but that he expected it to be overcome.

Certainly Ritchie's position at the fortified and well-served base of Matruh is far better than it would have been had he tried to make a stand at the Egyptian border. Rommel, on the other hand, suffers the disadvantage of greatly extended and highly vulnerable communications, which must give him much concern, especially as regards the supply of drinking water, for without it men die quickly in the awful heat of the desert.

Legion Turns Relics Against Axis

Guns which once poured death across No-Man's Land into Allied forces in the First World War, today began their move to a global battlefield as scrap metal. Kingston Post, No. 150, American Legion, turned over to the B. Millens & Sons junkyard the war relics which memorialized the campaign of the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe. The relics were formerly on the lawn in front of the Legion building on West O'Reilly street. Included in the trophies turned over to the Federal salvage drive were a large 75 mm. field cannon, a German machine gun and four huge shells. A derrick was used to hoist the equipment into a truck.

Schools to Open Before Labor Day To Even Schedule

About 8,000 Gallons of Oil Would Be Saved by Early Beginning of Year's Work

The war and the late date on which Labor Day falls this year complicated the making up of a school calendar for 1942-43 but Superintendent of Schools Arthur J. Laidlaw solved the problem when he moved up the opening of the city schools one week, opening the public schools before Labor Day for the first time in history.

In order that the required number of school days might be held and still maintain winter season holidays, when oil can be saved, it has been necessary to open schools on Tuesday, September 1, closing the schools for one day on Monday, September 7, for Labor Day. This will permit the usual long Christmas holiday as well as the other "cold weather" holidays.

It is estimated that at least 8,000 gallons of fuel oil can be saved through this week earlier opening of schools, Mr. Laidlaw explained that by closing down for the Christmas holiday season on December 18 and remaining closed until January 4, the usual holiday would be had, permitting many students who desire to work that opportunity during the Christmas holidays, and much valuable oil could be saved.

The early opening of schools this fall will not hamper the rural student who desires to work during harvest since the legislature has passed a law permitting such student an extra 30 days absence without affecting the payment of public money to the schools.

The school calendar had to be arranged in order that the required number of days be permitted between the opening of schools and the date of examinations. The calendar adopted is:

School Tax Rate Is Cut 38 Cents; Rate Is $9.28

Budget Adopted by Education Board Is Likely to Pass Council; Will Raise $213,587.22

Kingston taxpayers will find a reduction of 38 cents per thousand of assessment when their annual school tax bills come around this year, the tax rate having been reduced from last year's $9.66 to $9.28 through a slightly reduced annual budget.

The annual budget was adopted by the Board of Education Thursday evening and will be submitted to the Common Council for approval by that body. However, since the budget was made up by the trustees in conference with the mayor and other city officials, its unquestionable approval is expected.

The budget this year calls for the raising of $213,587.22 by local taxation, that sum when added to other estimated revenue will provide funds for operation of the city's school system during the ensuing school year. A total budget of $644,584.11 was presented and it is anticipated that this sum will provide for all necessary operation of the public schools of the city for the year.

Estimated revenues, including the state aid money which will amount to some $287,114.54, other than the money to be raised by local taxation is estimated at $430,996.89 and this sum when added to the moneys raised locally will total $644,584.11 or the operating expenses for the school year ending June 30, 1943.

Last year there were certain improvement expenses which are not contained in the present budget such as the equipment in the (Continued on Page 12)

Nationwide Transportation Crisis Is Predicted by Public Roads Officials

Washington, June 26 (AP)—A nationwide worker-transportation crisis, with potentially serious effects on the war production effort, was predicted by the public roads administration today as a result of the forced retirement of passenger automobiles.

After a study of the problem in a sample locality, the bureau said it now was "absolutely necessary" that universal group riding be instituted as a means of extending the usefulness of available cars and tires.

The agency suggested also that working hours be staggered on community-wide bases to increase the efficacy of mass transportation.

Anticipating transportation difficulties, the Office of Price Administration, the Office of Petroleum Coordination and the Office of Defense Transportation already have urged the organization of car pools. Mayors of more than 300 cities have set up war transportation committees to organize group-riding and staggered-hour programs.

The urgency of the situation gave rise to the scrap rubber collection drive now in full swing.

Axis Columns Reach Point 100 Miles Inside Egypt

By ROGER D. GREENE (Associated Press War Editor)

Germany, battered at home anew by thousands of tons of British bombs, struck furiously toward the riches of the Middle East today along two routes, southern Russia and North Africa, amid indications that a great showdown battle for Egypt was imminent.

Cairo dispatches said the main force of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's mechanized armies, climaxing a 100-mile advance in two days, now was confronting the British about 30 miles west of Matruh.

British imperial headquarters previously had announced that Axis vanguards advanced within 30 miles of Matruh last night.

In the interim, the main Axis army surged forward, dispatches said, but so far had not yet collided with the new British defense lines.

The decisive battle was expected to start at any moment.

Latest reports said the heavy Axis armored columns, supported by mobile infantry, were rumbling along a wide natural avenue about midway between the Mediterranean sea coast and a desert plateau rising 25 to 30 miles inland.

British armored patrols were reported to have scattered other Axis light forces along the western rim of the Qattara depression about 90 miles inside Egypt.

The main British forces were described as drawn up about 20 miles west of Matruh, key railroad 160 miles west of Alexandria.

Other major developments saw the British hurl another huge-scale aerial assault of more than 1,000 bombers against Bremen in the Reich, while Russia's Red armies lost ground in the new Kharkov battle but held fast in the siege of Sevastopol.

In Washington, the mighty strides of America's war effort were high-lighted by President Roosevelt's disclosure that in the single month of May the nation turned out nearly 4,000 planes and more than 1,500 tanks.

In releasing the official war production figures, the first since Pearl Harbor, Mr. Roosevelt commented grimly that they would give the Axis just the opposite of "aid and comfort."

The Chief Executive warned, however, that "this is no time for the American people to get over confident. We can't rest on our oars."

London military experts said the swift Axis drive into Egypt coupled with the German thrust toward Russia's Caucasus, was likely to make the next week one of the most critical periods of the war.

These quarters said Rommel could throw approximately 100,000 troops into the attack on the main British defense line before Matruh, with the outcome perhaps involving the fate of Egypt and the entire Allied position in the Middle East.

"If Egypt goes, our control of the middle east and our chances of aiding Russia through Persia go with it," a former British war cabinet minister declared gravely.

"Defeat in Egypt would open the way for Axis control of Africa, Europe and Asia through possession of the eastern hemisphere's main crossroads."

Informed quarters said Matruh represented a last-ditch stand by the British west of the Nile, with "practically nothing" in the way of fortifications between Matruh and Alexandria and Cairo.

Dispatches from Cairo said Gen. Rommel's gambit on a swift knockout of the battered and weary British Eighth Army, was throwing into action every ounce of his striking power. This included the German 21st and 15th armored divisions, and a huge supporting mass of motorized infantry.

In addition, the Axis chieftain was reported using newly captured British and United States-built tanks, hastily daubed with swastikas on their sides.

While the British declared their army was still a formidable battle force, bolstered by fresh troops since the disastrous retreat across the Libyan Desert, dispatches indicated that British hopes of a victory were pinned largely on geographical advantages.

Cairo military quarters said the first 48 hours of fighting before Matruh would probably determine whether Rommel's long-drawn communication lines were equal to (Continued on Page 11)

Andrew Street Residents Petition to End Use of M. J. M. Recreation Area

Use of the M. J. M. playground area at the rear of the premises of Andrew street residents has been of such a nature this spring that residents living adjacent to the area petitioned the Board of Education Thursday night to close the playground.

It was alleged in a petition signed by several residents who reside adjacent to the area that the place had become a public nuisance, that people using the area used vile language and that their premises were being damaged by balls which were being thrown over the fence and that when players attempted to retrieve the ball their language was frequently indecent and some of them did not hesitate to "tell the property owners where to go" when they protested on their gardens being trampled. It was also alleged in the petition that it was dangerous to be outside the homes when a ball game was in progress, since balls frequently endangered people in the yards and gardens.

There were six specific complaints alleged and the last was that the racket was like "bedlam let loose." The complaint was not in regard to children but mentioned the disturbance by adults using the grounds.

A letter from Dr. Silk also said that Mrs. Anna Albertson of Andrew street needed absolute rest and quiet and that any disturbance would be serious for her health.

Sidney Lutzin, superintendent of the City Recreation Department, was present and spoke on the matter. He said his department had not taken over supervision of the area until June 22 and he believed the trouble had arisen prior to that. Now there are two playground supervisors on the area between 10 a. m. and 9 p. m. and he said that it was the duty of these supervisors to see that the area was conducted in a proper and decent manner. He said he felt sure that the bad language would be eliminated and that the matter of damage would also be eliminated. It was impossible to have absolute quiet where a group of people were enjoying themselves, noise went with it, but he said he felt sure there would be a change for the better.

Mr. Lutzin called attention to the need for use of the area, saying that there were several softball leagues in progress and it was necessary that the area be used in order to care for the games. There is a shortage now of space available. He called attention to the new State Physical Fitness program under Civilian Defense and said that the area would be required. It is daily used by 200 to 300 residents from Spring street to the West Shore crossing.

Up until June 22 the area was not supervised, Mr. Lutzin said, and was used by "outlaw" game players by teams which had not scheduled the games through the recreation department. He said he had no jurisdiction over the area until June 22 but for the next eleven weeks his department would be responsible.

In the future he said supervision would be had over the area and undue noise or vile language would result in the team being ejected from the lot. He also said that in case a ball was batted over the fence only one person would be permitted to retrieve it and then only with the consent of the property owner. If such permission is not given the ball will remain on the premises and the Department of Recreation will make good for loss of the ball. He said there were seven leagues playing with an enrollment of about 1,000 people and he felt that with proper supervision no further trouble would ensue.

Trustee Cook said that he believed the noise and disturbance should be eliminated or the grounds closed. He suggested that people using the area be notified that if the disorder was not stopped the Board would close the area. He suggested that an effort be made to induce the users of the area to act like gentlemen.

Mr. Lutzin said it was planned to have the area used by the women's soft ball teams and thus much of the objections could be eliminated.

Trustee Rowland suggested it was a chance to see how well supervised play could be and said that a chance should be given the players. Now that the Department of Recreation had the area under supervision it could be seen whether the nuisance could be overcome by proper supervision.

President Schmid said there had been disorder, that there had been damage to shrubbery of residents in the vicinity caused by people recovering balls and that there had been some indecent writings on buildings in the area. The watchmen had trouble with some who used the area before the supervision was undertaken.

Trustee Plunkett suggested that on Saturday afternoons and Sundays when there was no supervision that the area be closed. It was suggested by Trustee Haver that the area be posted to that effect and the police see it was enforced.

There are two upper areas to the high school which may be used at all times.

Trustee Haver moved that a three weeks trial be given the plan under supervision of the Recreation Department and if it worked out the area would remain open. If the trouble does not cease, the building committee will have power to close the area.

Y.M.C.A. Day Camp Will Open Monday At Williams Lake

Season Will Last Until August 14; Capable Instructors Will Be in Charge

The first week of the Y. M. C. A. Day Camp will begin Monday, June 29, and will continue for seven weeks until Friday, August 14. For five days a week, Monday through Friday, a daily program will be held at Williams Lake.

To supervise and direct the program for fun and safety, a staff of six will be in attendance, Dick Thomas, "Y" physical director, will be in charge of the camp. Miss Justine Rowe will supervise the girls' games and activities. Assisting as leaders and life savers will be Neal Dunham, Harry Lang, Harry Koch and Jack Johnson. Each leader has passed his Junior Red Cross Life Saving and Water Safety course in the Y. M. C. A. and has been active in the Leaders Club and gym activities at the "Y."

'Claudia' Is Hit As Elwyn Opener

Woodstock Playhouse Has Big First Night House

A New England country home, a husband with a little enigma for a wife and a really lovable mother-in-law are ingredient attributes which make "Claudia" an outstanding play and the play as given by Robert Elwyn's players last evening made one of the most impressive opening performances at the Woodstock Playhouse. It continues through to Sunday evening.

Despite gas rationing the opener drew a packed house and Mr. Elwyn preceded the opening curtain with a few words of appreciation for the extra effort. The performance was given as a Navy Relief benefit and Mr. Elwyn announced that other benefits were planned for the season.

Several former Elwyn players are in the group and most of these give promise of an interesting season. Viola Roche was a favorite with the audience as Mrs. Brown, mother of the incredible Claudia, and Joan Arliss, who has returned to Woodstock, much more impressive than last year, carried the lead most convincingly.

Many of the lines in the play brought the house to a high in laughs and a few of them packed super wallop. Miss Arliss shared most of these lines with Harry Young as David Naughton, her puzzled and patient young husband.

Helen Harmon helped the comedy along most effectively as Madame Daruscka and the other minor parts were well handled by Philip Bevens, Ivan Triessault and Mary Farrell.

The play, itself, is most pleasing in smart dialogue, situation and simple plot interest. The story hardly needs telling for its simplicity but because it mirrors life as so many know it, this little drama is a masterpiece of the Broadway variety. The set again was beautifully done, indicating that the Playhouse continues with proper stress on back-stage effort.

Bombs Released Near Albuquerque

Eleven Children Escape When Accident Occurs

Albuquerque, N. M., June 26 (AP)—The crash of bombs—dropped accidentally from an army training bomber—brought visions of an enemy air raid yesterday.

Eleven children escaped injury from the fifteen 100-pound practice bombs that exploded in a cornfield belonging to Manuel Griego. The farmer said they came from a bomber in a flight of four headed toward a bombing range.

Other residents, hearing explosions in quick succession and seeing flying dirt, said they thought it was an enemy raid, since they had not seen the planes. Scores of persons fled into their homes.

Authorities at the Albuquerque army air base declined to make any statement. Only a fence and some of the corn crop were damaged.

Claudio Griego, 12-year-old son on the farm, was stunned by one of the bombs.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, June 26 — Miss Adiska E. Conro has concluded her teaching at Public School No. 13 of Port Ewen, after 10 years of faithful and efficient service. She will be employed as teacher of the Eighth Grade in Wallkill Central School of Wallkill.

The Reformed Church Ladies' Aid Society will not meet during July, since the church will be closed for vacation.

Men Who Get Rubber in Amazon's Jungles Are Fully on Their Own

ber tappers is expected to rate high for preference. As one way around the metal shortage, an effort is being made to produce a satisfactory tapping cup from plastics.

Some 40,000 rubber tappers are estimated to be at work now in the Amazon basin. Officials hope to see another 20,000 equipped during 1942. How far this aim can be fulfilled depends on how fast equipment can be obtained and distributed.

The United States is trying to help Brazil and other rubber producing countries to make much of the missing equipment, thus relieving the demand on an already overworked North American industry. This country has agreed to spend $5,000,000 for rubber development in Brazil and $1,125,000 in Peru, with other amounts likely for other cooperating republics.

Aside from direct aid, additional millions are to go into health and sanitation projects to protect rubber workers.

Large scale production of rubber would bring to the Americas one of the greatest economic developments in history.

New roads would open up now inaccessible areas for settlement; boats and barges would swell trade on the rivers and populate now isolated regions of great natural wealth; air fields would appear in jungle clearings; unhealthy fester would be cleaned out; farming would evolve along modern lines to feed the new industry, and a land office boom would take place in food, tapping implements, building materials, medicines and scores of other living needs.

The Amazon basin offers territory of heroic size for growth. Its 2,500,000 square miles constitute perhaps the world's largest area of untouched riches.

Some rubber men estimate the Amazon basin could yield as much as 750,000 tons of rubber a year—almost enough to cover the record breaking consumption of rubber in the United States in 1941. But to get that much out of the jungles would involve migration of tens of thousands of workers.

First the tappers must be found in sufficient numbers. Not anyone will do; the tropics are cruel to tenderfeet. The men must be equipped. Then they must be transported to the job, which means boats and barges in large numbers, for the main avenue into the Amazon wilderness is the great river itself.

After that, it's each man for himself, a perilous job with more death and suffering than drama or public recognition.

Cartoonist LaDue Entertains Kiwanis

George LaDue of the Poughkeepsie office of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., versatile artist in black and white, was the entertainer on the Kiwanis program Thursday noon. As has been the result on a number of former visits, "all were pleased" when the artist allowed various members to draw lines of any shape and in any position and then proceeded with a few deft strokes to incorporate them into clever cartoons.

George told the members that he had made at least three or four "farewell appearances" before Kingston Kiwanis since he first visited here several years ago. Examples of his work have been used on several occasions in promotional work for Ulster and Greene counties.

E. M. Bower, chairman of the local attendance committee, announced some changes, affecting New York state Kiwanians, which liberalize attendance requirements during the duration of the war emergency. Under these temporary rules attendance at certain committee meetings will be allowed to count on the weekly attendance record.

Pertinent Facts On Conscription

In a bulletin issued by state headquarters, Brigadier General Ames T. Brown, New York state director of Selective Service, points out that classification in III-B does not require the registrant to be a necessary man but does require that he be engaged in an activity essential to war production or essential to the support of the war effort in addition, of course, to the status of dependency; otherwise, registrants with dependents will be placed in Class III-A.

If and when induction of registrants with dependents takes place, the division of Class III into the two groups will indicate which of the registrants are most essential to the war effort. While all of the registrants in this class will have dependents, those in Class III-A will not be engaged in essential war labor and Class III-B will include registrants engaged in an essential activity.

General Brown explained that a directive from Washington defines essential activities as those "supporting the war effort, including those activities which provide food, clothing, shelter, health, safety and other requisites of our daily life." He said:

"Since it is not necessary that a III-B registrant shall be a necessary man, it is not requisite that a Form 42-A shall be filed for him. This form is an affidavit of the registrant's employer indicating he is a necessary man. It is suggested, however, that in order to obtain III-B classification a Form 42-B (Occupational certification for registrants deferred by reason of dependency) shall be filed by the registrant. Upon receipt of the form, the local board will determine whether the registrant is employed in an activity essential to the war production or essential to the support of the war effort."

Brigadier General Ames T. Brown, the adjutant general of New York, said today that the declaration of war has brought increased recognition of the important function of the state guards in the broad pattern of the home defense of the nation.

As a result of congressional action on October 31, 1940, the New York Guard was created to take the place of the New York National Guard which became a part of the Army of the United States. Designed as a state force for use within the state, its value as a part of the national defense forces is recognized and a new directive of the War Department provides that core area commanders shall assist state authorities in the training and development of the state guards and make various training aids available to them. Suitable part-time instructors will be provided whenever they can be spared.

General Brown stated that the mission of the State Guard, as outlined by the War Department, is to provide an adequate, trained force for employment within the boundaries and jurisdiction of the state to meet domestic emergencies such as civil disturbances and disasters resulting from war or other cause and to guard and protect vital industries, installations, communications and facilities when local police and civil guards are deemed inadequate. In addition, the guard may be expected to assist Military Police and other units of the army, to suppress the efforts of enemy agents such as organized fifth column groups and parachute troops and to co-operate with Federal military authorities in extreme emergencies especially in the evacuation of civilians and in information and observation duty at or near frontiers.

The adjutant general, who is also state director of selective service, asserted that the guard is performing a useful function in the preinduction training of registrants who are permitted to enlist in the guard regardless of how little time they may have before induction.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

So Near and Yet—

New York—The American Museum of Natural History has sent several expeditions over a period of many years into the jungles of Java and Malaya seeking the skull of a rhinoceros sondaicus, a rare species.

With the fall of the Dutch West Indies and the Malay States, the museum feared it would be years, if ever, before such a skull could be added to its fossil collection.

But soon the skull of a rhinoceros sondaicus will be on display at the museum.

They found it in the museum's own attic, where it had lain unrecognized for more than 70 years.

Morpheus Makes an Arrest—

Philadelphia—A tired burglar who sat in a soft lounge chair too long will have plenty of time to rest up now.

Mrs. Anna Poole found the intruder dozing in the chair, a pile of loot beside him, and called police. He was still asleep when they arrived.

Harvest Hands

Hutchinson, Kas. — Hutchinson set up a W.P.A. canning project, complete with 15,000 waiting cans. Then sponsors discovered rabbits already had harvested all the peas.

Well, Grandma Did

Whitewater, Kas. — Auto and tire shortages? Ah, but girl scouts are resourceful!

The Whitewater group traveled to summer camp in two pioneer-type covered wagons.

Preserving and Prepared

Milwaukee—A court ordered a 23-year-old man held for examination because of his unorthodox wooling methods.

Police charged him with disorderly conduct after he sat behind a girl in a theatre, introduced himself by pulling her curls and pursued her from seat to seat with two questions:

Could she cook and would she marry him?

The youth had four unused marriage licenses from various states in his pocket.

City Employee

Jerseyville, Ill. — A stray dog wandered near the dog pound, close by the disposal plant. The poundkeeper eyed him as a likely catch.

Then the scrawny mongrel began digging out and killing moles that had torn up the plant lawn. The mongrel works so fast and efficiently that the city has purchased a license and boards him.

Stopped Play, Went To Work

Parkersburg, W. Va. — (AP)—To relieve the monotony while cruising around, Police Lieut. Harry Dougherty and Officer W. S. Hamrick play a game with auto license numbers, the winner being the one who spots the highest number in a given time.

"I see 330-199, so I win," said Hamrick. "No so," said Dougherty. "West Virginia licenses go only to 200,000 and something." They pursued the car, discovered the "3" on the license had once been a "B" to denote a truck license, and arrested the driver for improper use of license plates.

At Fort Dix

PVT. KENNETH HORNBECK

Private Kenneth Hornbeck returned recently to Fort Dix, N. J., after spending a ten-day furlough at his home, 50 Elizabeth street.

LYONSVILLE

Lyonville, June 25 — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and family spent the week-end at their home in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sleight of Kingston spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wager.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Oakley and son, Kenneth, called on her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osterhoudt, Sunday afternoon, June 14.

Mrs. James Davis and daughter, Roberta, called on Mrs. Gallo, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Tracy Barley of Stone Ridge spent Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Oakley and Mrs. Mary Oakley.

Mr. and Mrs. James Davis and family were in Ellenville Thursday past.

FIRE IN THE WOODS

Writing in the American Weekly, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard points out that fire in the forest is a definite menace to the war effort. "This year," he says, "the wolf of forest fire has more power to do harm in the United States than ever before."

"For many years fires have burned over an average of around 30,000,000 acres of forest land annually. Year after year experienced foresters have placed the estimate of property damage at $40,000,000. Few if any years have gone by without some lives being lost to forest fire. And the toll of death and suffering among wild animals, birds and fish; of destruction of the soil, and of constant erosion has, of course, been incalculable."

"This year, in addition to the capacity to exact a similar toll, forest fire could slow down the nation's production for war; it could interrupt the flow of aircraft, tanks, shells, ships and other fighting equipment for the United Nations and their fighting men."

A vast amount of timber products goes into fighting arms. A modern battleship, for instance, requires 500,000 board feet of wood. Steel cargo ships require as much as 700,000 board feet. A bombing plane cased for shipment requires 15,000 board feet, which is about as much as is used in a six-room house. Any number of war materials are made in part from wood pulp.

So our forests, in addition to being a priceless natural resource, are of vital importance to the war effort. And those forests, when the height of the dry season is reached, become virtually explosive. Power lines, railroad tracks, highways, and water supplies often run through our woodlands. One match could start a disastrous fire which would be felt in the far corners of the world, in diminishing supplies to our troops.

Be rigorously careful in the woods. Scrupulously abide by every regulation. Don't complain when forest areas are closed to travel—that is often a necessary precaution. The defense of America's magnificent resources of timber is part of national defense.

FIVE CONTINENT WAR

Never before has a war been fought in five continents at once. The present struggle began, of course, in Europe, and soon spread to Asia and Africa. Australia and the neighboring islands, part of Oceania, have suffered bombing raids, and in some cases invasion. Lately has come the Japanese landing on the Aleutian island of Attu. This, lying east of the international date-line, ranks as part of North America and not of Asia. For good measure, throw in the submarine sinkings in the St. Lawrence river and the "token" shelling of the Oregon and British Columbian coasts.

The last war was confined to Europe, Asia and Africa. The Seven Years War, from 1756 to 1763, when Frederick the Great of Prussia, with England as a helper, stood off Russia, France, Austria and part of Germany, was also waged in India, and in colonial America under the name of the French and Indian War.

Five continents, however, is a record. All that remains is for war to reach the soil of South America and Antarctica.

The disappearance of cars from the highways is at least a break for animals, wild and tame alike. Distressing to motorists of ordinary human sympathies has been the sight of dogs, cats, squirrels, rabbits and other animals lying dead by the roadside—victims usually of empty-headed speeders. It got so that any pet, living on a main traveled road, was sure to meet death in a few months.

Some way ought to be found to make this more than a reprieve.

OUT

There is one very good rule in case of doubt in dim-outs. If you are tempted to leave "just a little bit of a light" in a spot where you hope it will not show through to the outer world, but cannot be quite sure—out with it. A little bump in the dark is better than a bomb. Even a tumble down stairs may be less dangerous than a burning factory.

Make everything in the house as foolproof as possible—put a "baby gate" at the top of the stairs if necessary, and lock the cellar door. Think of everything. Then adopt the Army's slogan, and get the family to keep it always in mind:

"When in doubt, put it out."

SUEZ DANGER

Tobruk in itself was not much. The danger is to Egypt and the Suez Canal. Even Suez can be lost and the war yet won, but if Suez now be lost the war cannot be won this year. Victory in 1942 never had more than a slight chance against heavy odds, and if Suez be caught in the pincers, the odds are weighted too heavily for anything but a miracle to avoid a war of long years and wasted resources.

Despair, however, is not called for. Despair is weakening; it stalls action. Fury, too, is weakening; it explodes the forces.

Grimness is needed in this hour. Determination. A miracle intervened to save Paris—and France—and the Allied cause—in September, 1914. It was the miracle of a divine strength coming to determined men. "They shall not pass!" cried the French. Nor did they. The United Nations need that grimness today.

MILITARY COMMAND

"We have just had another object lesson," says Major George Fielding Eliot, in the New York Tribune, "in the futility of attempting to conduct a vast, world-wide war of coalition by means of loose understandings and hasty improvisations. We have lost our positions in Libya and we shall be lucky if we do not lose Egypt and the Suez Canal."

Walter Lippman observes: "The reverse in Libya is a grim reminder that battles are not decided merely by quantity of material and troops. There is also quality of command. It is the most critical of all the factors in war."

Very likely centralized and unified command in the critical war situation has been one of the foremost needs considered by the American President and British Premier in their Washington talks. The need is obvious.

 CAUSES OF LOW BACK PAIN

I often speak about low back pain because most sufferers naturally reach for help to relieve pain rather than search for the cause. They will take painkilling drugs, use heat and electricity, hot baths, massage, and other methods of treatment. In cases where pain is due to strain or other injury the use of heat to muscles that are stretching the spine away from the point of injury is good treatment but getting the strained or sprained parts back into their proper position would get the patient well in much less time.

In speaking of low back pain I have usually pointed out that most cases are really due to infection—tonsils, teeth, gall bladder, intestine—and the remainder to injury—strain and sprain of certain joints, injury to the disk or cushion between the bones of the spinal column. Sometimes the strain or sprain is due to poor posture, or to a protruding or overlarge abdomen.

Dr. P. M. Girard, Dallas, Texas, in Archives of Physical Therapy, points out that while low back pain is present in the spot where the infection or injury occurs, that pain also occurs in places distant from the point of infection or injury. This is known as a "referred" pain and because it occurs at a distance from the infected or injured spot, the cause may be overlooked. On the other hand, pain may occur in lower back and down back of thighs and be due not to injury or infection at point of pain but to growths in spinal cord, rupture, appendicitis, turns or bends of uterus, growth in ovary, stone in bladder, and other conditions.

A slight injury due to swinging a golf club or making a misstep may tear a muscle, rupture a ligament, or injure the joint holding one spinal bone to the next one.

The more the subject of low backache is investigated the more physicians are coming to believe that poor posture—letting the body slump or sag—is a more frequent cause than was formerly thought. This is the reason that when injury is the cause (as shown by relief from pain when at rest) and both patient and physician are unable to find any history of injury, they forget about poor posture as a cause.

Neurasthenia - Tiredness
 Many persons suffer from what is called neurasthenia—mental and physical tiredness. The cause for it in some cases may be so slight as to be overlooked. Send today for Dr. Barton's new leaflet entitled "Neurasthenia—Mental and Physical Tiredness." To obtain it just send a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Barton, Post Office Box 150, Times Square Station, New York, N. BABSON ON BUSINESS

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

REAL ESTATE AND INFLATION

Babson Discusses Price Trends
 Washington, D. C., June 26—

There seems to be as much misunderstanding about inflation as there is about rubber and gasoline. Even the Washington Bureaus appear to issue contradictory statements. It may be that these departments get their tenses mixed up, referring to the present or past rather than the future. Therefore, let me first straighten readers out on this subject.

Will We Have Inflation?

We most certainly will have inflation. If it doesn't come during the war, it will come after the war. Inflation is like a stream of water, you can't dam it up forever. Building a dam does not destroy the water in the stream. The dam holds back the water for only a limited time and then the water flows over it. The work of Leon Henderson, for whom I have great respect, is preventing inflation at the present time; but he is damming the water without destroying the flood. He is only postponing inflation.

All this talk about inflation is, however, accomplishing some real good of lasting importance. During World War I the administration at Washington was friendly to business. Prices were allowed to take their natural course and go up. As a result, the went up too high and there was a tremendous decline in 1921. This sudden price decline ruined a great many people. Now with an administration at Washington which is unfriendly to business, these prices are being kept down. This, however, should avoid a serious drop and deflation after the war is over.

What Will Benefit From Inflation?

There are various kinds of inflation—money inflation, credit inflation, commodity inflation, etc., etc. Most of these forms are gradual and do not make or break people. The real dangerous form of inflation is when people get panicky as to the value of their paper money. Then, like a flock of crazy sheep, they suddenly turn to spending this money and putting it into real things. This is the inflation which may come after the war. It is a matter of psychology and cannot be headed off by laws or price fixing or rationing or anything else except faith in God and our country.

When people lose confidence in the dollar and look about for real things, they all turn first to good furniture, wearing apparel, new autos, books, rugs, etc. People with money to invest turn to common stocks of companies with natural resources, good labor relations and whose stocks are selling at prices below their "invested capital value." The middle-class group will put their money into good real estate. If you do not own a home, you had better buy one. If you own a home with a mortgage, you should pay off that mortgage. If you own a home without a mortgage, get it in good condition to go through the inflationary period without the need of further maintenance expenses.

Real Estate Situation Today

In the war districts there now is very little vacant property; it must be less than 1 per cent. Yet, I would not advise buying property in these booming war areas. It might be well to sell when getting a fair offer. When it comes to considering average property in an average community, I would divide it into five groups as follows:

(1) Business Property. Now is the time to sell occupied city business property and the time to buy vacant suburban business property. The tire and gasoline shortages have temporarily reversed trading conditions. Where during

"AT CENTURY'S TURN"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

It is interesting to stop and look over the years that have passed since the turn of the century and to recall many of the men who were prominent in the life of the city. I can recall many of the great, near great and others like myself who have to make up the pages of the city's history.

Some day some historian will appear who will be able to give in word pictures a story of the city. At the present time William C. DeWitt, city historian, is busy at work on a history of Kingston, and with the material he has available he should be able to turn out a worthwhile history of the city and its residents.

Among the many outstanding men I recall during the past 42 years are such as John D. Schoonmaker, builder of wooden boats for the government in the first World War, and long active in the civic and banking life of the city; Nicholas Stock, who for more than 60 years was engaged in the furniture business in Kingston; Edward Weber, who for years conducted the butcher shop on Broadway at Abel street; J. T. Johnson, the hardware merchant on the Strand, and Guilford Hasbrouck, another Strand merchant, to mention but a few.

I recall the hat store of William Terwilliger on the Strand, and the fruit store of Barney Mann on lower Broadway with Mufson Brothers, the grocers on the opposite side of the street. Many older readers will recall the Simon Brothers, Broadway merchants, one of whom always carried an umbrella and the other a cane.

In later years I recall Avnet Brothers, the Strand clothiers, and Joseph Block, who conducted Block's Bazaar in the building at the Strand and Hasbrouck avenue, which now houses the local W.P.A. administration offices. There was also Marks Jacobs and his son, Harry Jacobs, merchant tailors downtown for many years.

I also recall David Weil, who had a store on lower Broadway, and James Tongue and his son, Alfred Tongue, who operated a grocery store on lower Broadway, as did the Recktenwald Brothers.

Another well known downtown grocer was George Plathaber on the Strand, and Palmer Canfield, head of the Canfield Supply Co. for many years until his death.

These are but a few men who were prominent in the life of the downtown section of the city; some of whom are still active.

1942 will top all previous records. These facts should develop a demand for houses after the war is over. The greatest probable help to real estate, however, would be inflation. When people get scared as to the real value of dollars, they will want to put them into something concrete, such as food, clothing and shelter. Of these three things, shelter will probably be in most demand.

Remember Fire Losses and Population Growth

In addition to inflation there are other factors which should cause an up-lift in certain forms of real estate after World War II. For instance, the fire losses each year amount to nearly $300,000,000. Of course, many of these losses are only partial and the building is quickly repaired; but many are total losses. These fire losses are constantly reducing the supply of houses. The population of our country is increasing at the rate of about 1,000,000 a year. The birth rate last year was the highest that it has been for many years. The marriage rate for

Question Is Asked: Why Have Only Two of 30 Publications Cases Resulted in Indictments?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 26 — Why has the Department of Justice obtained indictments in only two of the 30 cases of publications which have been suppressed by the Post Office Department?

This question becomes pertinent because when various seditious publications were barred from the mails, the reason given was that the publishers had violated the Espionage Act of 1917. If this is so, then not only the periodicals are suppressed but their owners and editors brought to trial as provided in the law.

If, on the other hand, the principal offenders who have been spreading poisonous materials in their publications can go scot free merely by folding up their publications, a precedent has been created whereby a mere threat of suppression or a Post Office order is sufficient to punish the expression of opinion in America when such opinion happens to be unpalatable to the administration in power.

The only formal explanation issued by the Post Office Department as to legal justification is in a case where the Department of Justice has since properly followed up the charges and filed indictments under the espionage law. This statute provides that whoever willfully makes or conveys "false reports or false statements with intent to interfere with the operation or success of the military or naval forces of the United States or to promote the success of its enemies . . . shall be punished by a fine not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than twenty years, or both."

The Post Office Department points out that the same law declares that any matter in violation of this statute is "non-mailable matter and shall not be conveyed in the mails or delivered from any post office or by any letter carrier."

But what is a violation of the espionage law? Can the Post Office Department determine in advance of prosecution by the Department of Justice that the law has been violated? There are many who feel that the only way a violation of a law can be established as having occurred is by proper trial and prosecution.

But assuming that the Post Office Department is right about it and publications can be denied second class mail privileges and all other rights to use the mails just because the Post Office Department believes the law has been violated, does this not place upon the Department of Justice now the obligation to follow through and prosecute those whom the Post Office Department has charged with violation of the espionage law? Under what rule

"EUROPE IN REVOLT,"

By Rene Kraus

Some Aunt Nancys of both sexes have been horrified at statements from persons in a position to know that we must make hate as well as machines to win this war. Hating Nazis is naughty, they feel.

But after reading Rene Kraus' "Europe in Revolt," for most of us, the problem will be how to keep from hating instead of whether it is nice to do so. Excerpted in one or two official reports, I have seen no record of such ghastly human behavior in my life. Others may have been more unfortunate.

Kraus is talking primarily of the anti-Nazi movements afoot in the conquered countries of Europe. But he also is explaining why these have so stubbornly maintained themselves, and why they stay so far underground in most of the raped lands. The reason is the same—the repressive measures taken by the Germans. Kraus' knowledge of these measures is astounding. The general facts are open to everybody, of

Washington In Wartime

By Jack Stinnett

Washington—In spite of all that has been written or said, I doubt if the reading public, as a whole, is much excited over the appointment of Elmer Davis as chief of the Office of War Information.

If it isn't, it's one of those mistakes which democracies sometimes make. There hasn't been a man come to Washington since the war effort started who has had such whole-hearted support in advance—as Elmer Davis. If he fizzles in his broad task to give the public all of the news, clearly interpreted, which won't seriously damage us by providing information to the enemy, it will be because there is something incurably wrong with our information system—and not necessarily with Mr. Davis.

The press relations battle in our government is so four-cornered fight. The people who after all are entitled to the first say have as their No. 1 complaint that they are not being reliably informed; that much information is conflicting; and that too much of it is delayed.

There is a second group, centered in Congress but not exclusively there, which contends that the present set-up is costly, inept, and concerned principally with grinding its own agency axes.

A third faction in the battle royal feels that the public should be fed only what is good for it in the light of our war effort and that all press relations agencies should be coordinated with this in mind.

The fourth battalion is composed of certain "ins and outs" supporters and some of these, sadly enough, would be willing to sabotage any change to prove their present set-ups are the most effective.

Davis enters the arena a top-flight favorite with all but the last group and those who think the news should be buttered on both sides before it's handed over for public consumption. Davis, in his journalistic endeavors both in print and on the radio, has proved that he belongs to the tougher school which believes that the American people can take it—the good with the bad.

His only definite and conclusive statement of objective since his appointment has been that he hopes to give the public "more news, more clearly interpreted."

His powers, laid down by the definitions of the executive order appointing him and setting up OWI, are broad enough in print to permit him to do exactly as he desires.

But there is many a slip between an executive order and execution. If this is just another government spring house-cleaning which, as one correspondent expressed it, might under the rug, sweeping the dust clean, then Davis has sacrificed in vain his $1,000 a week job in private life for about one-fifth that in the service for his wartime government.

This war has produced—again has dared greatly in his tactics. The major portion of his army undoubtedly was fagged out from long and steady fighting in the Libyan blast furnace. His mechanical equipment badly needed overhauling. Yet, in order to deprive his enemy of time for recovery, he took after Ritchie and his eighth army at full speed.

Exhibiting one of his outstanding characteristics, Rommel has chosen the short cut to contact the foe. That route lay along or in vicinity of the military highway, with the endless sands of the desert on the south. In taking this line Rommel exposed himself to heavy Anglo-American air attacks and to possible shelling by British warships which frequently have rendered the support of their big guns to the land forces.

Rommel's alternative would have been to make a long and arduous trek southwards into the desert and then swing northward again towards the sea. I hope you will note that south of Matruh lies the great Qattara depression, a terrain so bad that the Nazis would have had to pass south of it. Also Rommel presumably would have had no pause to conquer the oases of Siwa and Giarabub which at last reports were in British hands.

Much depends on those long communications of Rommel's. Somewhat he must keep them open as he goes into this crucial battle. Here is where the opposing air forces presumably will enter the picture in a big way. Already American and British warplanes have been blasting at Bengasi, chief German port for supplies on the military highway, and they also must be bombing Nazi supply lines.

One would expect too that Hitler would fling heavy air reinforcements into the engagement, and may even move fresh troops to Rommel's assistance by air. As remarked in previous columns, the outcome of this battle is likely to turn on control of the air.

While the battle for Egypt approaches a climax, Hitler's great correlated offensive in the Kharkov sector continues to intensify. A particularly fierce fight has developed sixty miles southeast of Kharkov where the Germans forced the Reds back and captured the railway junction of Kupiansk. The object of the Nazis is to gain control of communications in the important Donets basin, which would be a heavy blow to the Russians. The Muscovites are reported as resisting strongly and bringing up fresh reserves.

Cuba has 20,000 men in the army, navy and police forces combined, plus 30,000 reservists.

One-third of Canada's population is French-Canadian.

War Savings Drive Begins at Parley

workers together shortly after 8 o'clock and the proceedings opened with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" with Mrs. Lester Decker at the piano, and Mayor Edelmuth was introduced. The mayor said in part:

Have Solemn Task

"Your government has chosen you as Minute Men of 1942. It is your task, and I know you will accept it solemnly, to interview the public in this war bond pledge campaign. This is a drive which I most heartily endorse and I request the people of Kingston to assist you courteously and to contribute from their earnings as generously as possible. You are not going out seeking contributions; you are going out to convince the people to invest a portion of their savings in the finest investment in the world today, the preservation of the democratic way of life. You have a splendid organization headed by one of our finest citizens, Mr. Harold Brigham, and I know you are going to produce results.

"You are more than canvassers; you are more than bell ringers. Upon you depends the successful conclusion of this war in which we are now engaged. If you fall down on the task assigned to you and if men in like positions in other communities fell down on their jobs, our war effort would prove a failure. We would be unable to buy ships and planes and guns and bombs; we would be unable to lend assistance to our brave allies; we would lose the war.

All Our Effort Needed

"This is as the dictators have aptly described it, is an all out war. We must go all out in our efforts to beat these little men who have forced this war upon the world. This, the richest nation on the face of the earth, has men, the materials, the production potentialities and the financial system that eventually will defeat those seeking to enslave all peoples.

"I ask you Minute Men to do your utmost in this campaign. Again I ask the public to give and give in this effort to beat the Axis powers. We want the generations to come to appreciate our way of life; we want them to enjoy the advantages of freedom, justice and equality, just as we enjoy them today; most of all we want them to realize that the American people of this age have not betrayed the trust placed in us by the founders of our great republic.

Nothing Casual in War

Mr. Brigham said that he wished he might speak to the workers in a casual way about things that they liked to hear.

"But there is nothing casual or funny about the thing that confronts us," he said. "We are at war. We are a nation that for six-and-one-half hard months has lost a war. In Europe there is a demand for the establishment of a 'second front,' so that Hitler may be crushed between two antagonists; we are a nation now beset on two fronts by two antagonists. We are a nation attacked on both shores, with enemy troops now occupying a part of one shore. We are waging an up-hill fight, for we are forced to ship our troops and war material to battle fronts thousands of miles away. Our flag has been shot down, our planes and ships and fortifications destroyed, our island territory wrested from us, our boys slaughtered by the thousands.

This black picture that I have truly painted, exists because we have been indifferent, have played bridge and golf and petty politics while our enemies were carefully, cruelly, calculatingly preparing themselves for our undoing, during the past twenty years of their effort and sacrifices for their ideal of world conquest and power.

"So what? Are we discouraged? NO! Are we indifferent now? NO! LONGER! At last we are awake. We are become careful and calculating in OUR preparation to fight for OUR ideal of freedom and peace.

"Now we are a nation willing and eager to sacrifice and train and work for OUR ideal! Gladly we give up our pleasure cars, and ride a bike or walk, that there may be more war machines to defend our ideal. Fords are turned into flying fortresses, Buicks into bombers, trim town-cars into tanks; refrigerators and radios become rifles, metal gadgets become machine guns, in the greatest over-night transformation of industry that the world has ever seen. Our nation, and that is you and I, is under way in an all-out effort to preserve our ideal; and our government is asking you to help.

"The Treasury Department needs to know how much money it can expect to receive from voluntary civilian investment in War Bonds. This is vital information for the financing of the war. The only way that the Treasury can secure this information, is through the returns of this Pledge Campaign throughout the nation. We in Kingston and Ulster county are an important division of a huge national army of volunteers that will contact neighbors and friends to record, for the confidential war information, how much they are investing and will continue to invest in War Bonds and Stamps.

"Let us do our part as faithfully as the boys who wear uniforms and carry guns; for when we are through in a week or two, we will return in safety to our homes in this beautiful green valley where our boys would love to be and to which some of them will never return to learn how much they have done for us. We owe them every support that we can give them. Therefore it is a privilege to be able to work in this Pledge Campaign. Let us do it, and do it well."

Keep our boys' tips by putting the U. S. O. drive over the top.

Chicagoans Explain Importance of Fats

Chicago, June 26 (AP)—Chicago housewives jumped into a new campaign today to grease the skids under Hirohito and Hitler with kitchen fats.

A specially-trained corps of 7,000 women has set out to inform the housewives how to conserve fats and to explain their importance in the manufacturing of glycerine for explosives.

The campaign will continue for two weeks. Nathaniel Leverson, Illinois salvage director, said it would be used as the model for a drive of national proportions to save an estimated billion pounds of grease thrown away each year.

AWKWARD SITUATIONS AT MILITARY WEDDING

In regard to the occasional question of whether at a military wedding, the bride should walk on her father's left, it may very well be that the idea of "keeping his sword arm free" had its origin in the traditions of the Army or the Navy. But having in mind a smoothly maneuvered procession, nothing could be more awkward than having the father run smack into the bridegroom—or, steering to the left, come to a stand between the bride and bridegroom.

I have written before of my remembrance of a wedding where the father remained standing on the right of his daughter, and on his own right the bridegroom was pushed aside throughout the beginning of the ceremony! It looked exactly as though the bride were going to marry her father! At the question "Who giveth this woman?" the father did step back and place the hand of the bride in that of the bridegroom. The climax came when in attempting to join his wife while the bride's very long train was still in the way, he stepped on it and fell. The whole impression was so bumbling that I should not write of it were it not that he himself told the story many times.

Mentioning Divorced Husband

Dear Mrs. Post: When it becomes necessary to mention my husband, from whom I have been separated for five years but not divorced, how shall I speak of him? If I say "my son's father" it could suggest that he had never been my legal husband, and this would certainly not be very helpful to my son. Since I do not even respect my husband, I naturally don't mention him more often than need be. But now and again it is necessary, and I never know what to say.

Answer: I think "my son's father" is rather stilted and therefore attracts attention. If you say "John's father" wanted him to go to Colgate or something like that, no one will notice. Or you can say "My husband never allowed him to do that." As you yourself have just implied, it is very seldom necessary that you speak of him at all.

You'll find some very helpful information about giving the buffet suppers, and formal dinners, in Emily Post's new booklet, "The Etiquette of Service." Births Recorded

The following births have been reported to the Board of Health: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hutton of 71 Newkirk avenue, a daughter, Dorothea Frances.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar J. Lawatsch of 51 Summit street, a daughter, Margaret Christine, in Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Hvatt of 297 Hasbrouck avenue, a daughter, Gail June, in Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Burns, Jr., of 142 Prospect street, a son, John Alfred, 3d, in Benedictine Hospital.

We WELCOME the Establishment of Price Ceilings, for we saw our opportunity to prove how low Penney prices have always been. When shortages forced up the cost of all kinds of merchandise, we kept our selling prices down as long as we could. And since our prices had steadfastly withstood the general price rise, our ceiling prices are set at levels that make Penney's, now, more than ever, a place for thrifty people to shop. And by thrifty people we mean everybody!

Dairymen's League Unit Has County-Wide Session

Forty representatives of the various Dairymen's League locals attended the county wide meeting at Stone Ridge Thursday night. The speakers included director Millard Davis of Kerhonkson, local delegates to the annual convention in Buffalo, and sub-district president, M. C. Albright, of Athens, Greene county, who presided.

Following the reports of delegates, Mrs. George Saile of Saugerties, was elected as the county advisory committee woman to succeed Mrs. R. J. Service of Stone Ridge. George Dunsberger of Gardiner was re-elected county treasurer of the League and Albert Kurdt was elected secretary.

Delegates to the big annual League convention in Buffalo last week, who reported on various parts of the affair included Mrs. George Saile, Mrs. Millard Davis, Birge Simmons of Woodstock, and H. M. Eppes of Accord. It was reported that the convention was about one-third smaller than usual with about 2,000 present. This was attributed to the fact that farmers find it almost impossible to get away because of the labor shortage, and the tire and gasoline situation and the fact that the convention was held in the extreme western end of the League territory.

Production is reported to have outstripped the total production of the Axis powers in important weapons, especially warplanes. The problem of getting these supplies to the fighting fronts in sufficient quantities and in sufficient time despite German U-boats and bombers remains as one of the most imperative facing this country and Britain.

The fact that, except for her advances into the western Aleutians which are still strategically inconclusive, Japan has been thwarted in every recent attempt to crack the American-Australian position in the Pacific and has paid a costly price in ships and planes for her failures.

The Pacific victories undoubtedly have eased the pressure on the Allied nations in that theatre and permitted them to concentrate further on building up their forces for the all-important months ahead—months in which Germany must win if she is ever to win and in which the Allies cannot afford to lose too heavily if they are to make 1943 the promised year of victories.

It is in this connection, experts said, that the campaigns in Russia and Egypt assume their potentially decisive character.

The military tank is a British development inspired by the American farm tractor.

Scrap Rubber

Because the Japs over-ran the lands from which we get more than 90 per cent of our rubber, we must be very careful of the rubber we have.

One way of making our stock of crude rubber last as long as possible is to mix the crude with a percentage of reclaimed rubber made from scrap.

This produces rubber up to army standards—five old tires or 80 hot water bottles or fourteen 20-foot lengths of garden hose will supply the amount of reclaimed rubber used in the rubber parts of a 37 mm. gun carriage. And the reclaimed rubber used in a flying fortress could be supplied by 20 tires or 320 hot water bottles or 56 20-foot lengths of hose.

Guns and bombers will win the war. Help hurry them off the production line by taking your scrap rubber collection to the nearest filling station now.

Mischa Elman, the violinist, was playing at a reception, and he says, "For an urchin of seven, as I was at that time, I flatter myself I rattled off Beethoven's Kreutzer Sonata finely. The Sonata has in it several long and impressive rests. In one of these rests a motherly old lady leaned forward, patted my shoulder and said, 'Play something you know, dear.'"

Teacher—What is your name (registering a new pupil).
Pupil—Arthur.
Teacher—And what's your first name?
Pupil—Brown.
Teacher—Oh, haven't you got them wrong? I think Arthur must be your first name and Brown your family name. Isn't that right?

But the small pupil was not persuaded. A day or two later he announced:
Pupil—Teacher, mother says Brown is my first name. She says I got that name when I was born and she didn't name me Arthur until three days later.

Oscar, the bullock, came to town on his semi-annual drunk. While making a rather devious track through a blizzard from one saloon to another, his foot slipped on the icy snow and he rolled gloriously into the gutter where he lay staring up at the sky until his head cleared. Just then a beautiful girl started across the street through the storm. The cold wind snatched at her lacy dress and whipped it to and fro. Oscar's eyes bulged.

Oscar—Ho! Lady, you got two ver, beautiful legs.

War Aviation Committee To Control Air Traffic

The War Aviation Committee, formed to settle air traffic control problems which result from the wartime increase in military air operations, has assumed control of the navigable air space of continental United States, the War Department announced today.

The committee, comprising the assistant secretary of war for air, the assistant secretary of navy for air, the assistant secretary of commerce for air, and the chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, now acts on all problems concerning air traffic which affect more than one of the departments or agencies represented. The committee rules upon the recommendations submitted by the Interdepartmental Air Traffic Control Board, which investigates and coordinates air activities between the various branches, including both military and civil aviation. The recommendations of this board, concerning the use of certain navigable air space at certain times, when approved by the committee will be binding upon all the branches of military or civil aviation concerned.

All War Department agencies that propose to engage in air activities or operations which might, in any manner, involve a permanent or temporary hazard or obstacle to aircraft in flight, now must obtain advance approval of the committee. The proposed plan of air activities must be submitted to the board, with full details as to the time, extent and area affected. The committee will rule on all such matters in the continental United States, and for 200 miles seaward from the eastern, western and southern shores, excluding, of course, the possessions of other nations.

The board now has been granted authority to appoint regional committees from time to time.

Rev. Greenland Is Ordained at Service

The Rev. Herbert C. Greenland, who has been serving as associate pastor at the First Reformed Church this year, was ordained Thursday evening by the Classis of Ulster of the Reformed Church. The public evening service was held at the First Reformed Church with the Rev. Stephen W. Ryder, vice-president of the Ulster Classis, presiding.

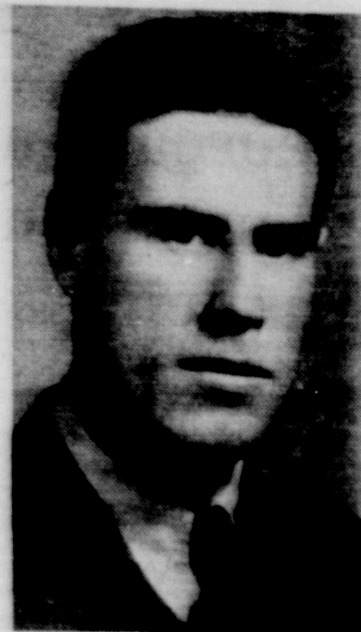

The prayer and scripture reading were given by the Rev. Dr. Charles Palmer. The senior choir of the church also participated in the service and sang the anthem.

"How Lovely The Messengers." The sermon was given by the Rev. Dr. Frank E. Seeley of the Fair Street Reformed Church. Dr. Seeley chose for his theme, "My Philosophy of Life." All of the ministers of the Classis, who were in the congregation, took part in the laying on of hands in ordaining the Rev. Mr. Greenland.

The Rev. Mr. Greenland received his divinity degree from Boston University School of Theology. He also has a bachelor of arts degree from Bucknell University and a master of arts degree from the University of Michigan.

Immediately following the ordination, the Classis held a short meeting to approve the joint call of Oscar Jelsma to the Mt. Marion Reformed Church and the High Woods Reformed Church.

Mr. Gilday received the gold cup and medal from the school for having attained the highest scholastic rating of his class. He has been appointed to the staff of the school of aeronautics as instructor and has entered his new duties there. Mr. Gilday is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of 1938, where he was prominent in athletics, having been regarded as one of the outstanding basketball players in the city.

Mr. Troy is also a graduate of Kingston High School, class of 1938, and attended Bard College where he was a member of the Kappa Gamma Chi Fraternity. He has accepted a government position with American Airlines.

Mrs. Brinner Heads Parish Aid Society

The Parish Aid of St. John's Episcopal Church met at the parish house Monday, June 22. Previous to the meeting a delightful picnic luncheon was enjoyed by all. There were 16 members present.

Following the usual business meeting, the officers were elected for the ensuing year. Mrs. Parker K. Brinner, president; Mrs. Myron Teiler, vice-president; Mrs. James A. Mathers, secretary; Mrs. Robert Ploss, treasurer.

The next meeting will be held September 21 in the parish house.

Former Ellenville Girl to Marry

New York, June 25 (Special).—Miss Gladys Rosenstein, formerly of Ellenville, now of 545 West 111th street, New York, and Abner Benjamin Foran, of 4901 H. avenue, Brooklyn, procured a license to marry here today at the Municipal Building. The couple stated they would be married on Sunday at the Riverside Plaza Hotel here.

Miss Rosenstein was born in Ellenville, the daughter of Isidore and Rose Slutsky Rosenstein. Mr. Foran, who is the son of William and Toby Lieberman Founberg, was born in New York.

Personal Notes

The Rev. Ernest L. Witte returned last evening from attending the meeting of Synod held at Bronxville. He represented this district at the conference.

The Misses May and Anne Quimby of Wilson avenue and Miss Ethel M. Hull of Smith avenue returned today from Lake Minnawaska where they spent several days.

Harold M. Tuttle of the United States Coast Guard Service and Burdette William Tuttle of Pompton Plains, N. J., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burdette R. Tuttle at their home in Poncknockie.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry L. Bibby of Wall street will return from Saratoga Springs tomorrow where Dr. Bibby has been attending the New York State Health Officers Conference.

Charles Fawcner, son of Mrs. C. W. Fawcner of Olive Bridge, will leave Sunday for Niagara Falls where he has accepted a position for the summer. He is a student at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Local Restaurants, Hotels, Lunch Rooms Aid Drive

Local restaurants, hotels, lunch rooms and diners are cooperating with the Ulster County Nutrition Committee by exhibiting milk posters in conspicuous places and by attaching to menu cards a daily food guide to good nutrition.

According to a recent survey, 44 per cent of adult males, 49 per cent of adult women, 9 per cent of children 9 to twelve, 13 per cent of children 13 to 18 drink no milk.

Nutritionists point out it is impossible to maintain a high nutrition standard with no milk. Amounts recommended are a pint for adults and a quart for children.

Buoyant personal health is the responsibility of every individual. If a family finds it difficult to get the amount needed help on food plans and buying practices will be given by the Ulster County Nutrition Committee. Address Mrs. William T. Hooke of Lake Katrine.

Rosendale Women's Club To Give Annual Event

July 4 has been designated as the time for the Women's Club of Rosendale to hold its fourth annual dance and entertainment at the Firemen's Hall.

Part of the program is as follows:

Mrs. E. F. Galvin with A. Van Gonsic will give a vocal duet.

Dorothea Zaengle and cast—Modern dancing.

Walter May, Jr., of Kingston—Piano solo.

Nina and Fidel Zabal of New York—Spanish dancing.

A novelty tap dance will be given by sister and brother, Katherine and Stephen Huben of the Cashin School of Dancing.

Joseph O'Connor will act as master of ceremonies and refreshments will be served by the Cornus Club.

The entertainment will start promptly at 8 o'clock and dancing will follow, music being furnished by Roger Baer's Orchestra.

The committee in charge for the evening is: Mrs. Jesse Davis, president; Mrs. Edward Huben, Mrs. Joseph Hill, Mrs. James Fahey, Mrs. Andrew J. Snyder, Mrs. Stephen Huben, Mrs. Henry Myers, Mrs. Vladimir Bobri, Mrs. George Nichols, Mrs. Eugene Galvin, Mrs. Gordon Henning, Mrs. Eno Spindler.

Vanishing Parties Aid Service Men's Families

The vanishing parties which have been held during the past few weeks for the benefit of Bundles for America are beginning to bring in completed returns.

Each of the twelve women who were members of the original party are responsible for $52 in the project. The first of these quotas has been filled by Miss Ellen Van Slyke.

The funds from these parties will be used for the Army and Navy Relief Societies who care for the families of the men now serving in the fighting forces. As more of the United States men are sent to foreign shores to participate in the war, greater sums of money are needed to care for their families who are left behind.

It is with this knowledge in mind that the committee in charge of these vanishing parties urges the workers to complete their portion of the allotment.

Miss Gallagher Mid-June Bride

Of Henry Peskie at St. Mary's

On Sunday, June 21, at St. Mary's Church, a pretty mid-June wedding was solemnized when Miss Loretta Gallagher of 65 West Union street, became the bride of Henry Peskie. The Rev. Joseph Connor performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a light blue dress and a tiara of flowers to match, with white accessories, and a corsage of sweetheart roses. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helen Gallagher, who wore a rose colored dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias. The bridegroom was attended by his brother-in-law, Joseph Shearney of Yonkers.

A dinner was served at Judge's Restaurant, Albany avenue, for intimate friends of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Peskie left for an extended tour of Canada and Niagara Falls.

Silverman-Rosenstein

Miss Jeanne Rosenstein, daughter of Morris Rosenstein, of 23 St. Mary's street, and the late Fannie Rosenstein, became the bride of Sanford Silverman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Silverman of Glens Falls, June 1, at Atlanta, Ga.

Swamp Lilies and Glasco A. C. Win City League Games

Former Club Takes 7 to 1 Victory Over Hildebrand Tossers

Herbie Williams Pitches Lilies to Triumph; Ferraro Stars for Glasco's Nine

The Swamp Lilies and the Glasco A. C. scored triumphs in the City Baseball League schedule last night. For Glasco it was its second victory this week. The Lilies turned back Hildebrand by 7 to 1 and A. C. club won a 4 to 3 game over Ashokan.

Herbie Williams, one of the many sparkling pitchers in the loop this summer, toed the slab for the Swamp Lilies last night at Hasbrouck Park and carved himself a three hit victory. The Boatmen found Williams for their lone marker in the initial frame and after that he was in supreme command.

Ted Frelich and George Celuch worked on the mound for Hildebrand and limited the Lilies to seven hits. A four-run surge in the fourth inning gave the Lilies a big edge. Fautz, Williams and Gill rapped out singletons in this frame, coupled with a big double off the bat of McConnell.

Fautz and Gill paced the winners with two hits apiece. Frelich, Steigerwald and Quinn found Williams for the only three hits collected by Hildebrand.

Glasco-Ashokan Result
Young Frank Ferraro took to the hill for Glasco last night at Block Park after Starter Toddy Uhl had retired in the second inning. Ferraro came through with a sizzling bit of relief chores by keeping Ashokan hitless in six innings. He was touched for a run in the third inning but except for that, Ferraro was in rare form.

Glasco, spotting Ashokan two runs in the first, bounced back with a pair of tallies in the second and two more in the fifth which told the story of the contest. Glasco found the offerings of Van Buren for nine hits.

In that second stanza Carlino, J. Ferraro rapped out singles and scored when Uhl laced out a long two-ply blow. That tied the ball game at 2-2. Then in the fifth M. Francello and Fondino collected singles and came in on Manfro's double. M. Francello and Manfro took the batting leads last night with two hits apiece.

History May Repeat
Goshen, June 26 (Special)—If '41 trotting history repeats itself at Good Time Park here August 12, Colby Hanover, favorite for the $40,000 Hambleton stake, will be thrashed by Cannon Ball, second choice, because when the two New York colts last met on Bill Cane's triangular mile track, Cannon Ball mowed down Colby Hanover in straight heats.

Hurls 10th Win

MORT COOPER

Although Billy Southworth's St. Louis Cardinals are nine full games in back of the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers, Mort Cooper, ace righthander of the Redbirds, is still going along in sensational fashion. Yesterday against the Boston Braves, Cooper, who has been chosen as one of the All-Star game pitchers, hung up his 10th victory of the year, and scored his sixth shutout of the campaign by throwing a 4 to 0 win over the Beantowners. Cooper, who underwent an operation for his valuable throwing arm last season, has now pitched 32 straight scoreless innings. Yesterday he retired the first 16 batters to face him and finished his 10th triumph with a neat two-hit performance. Cooper, in all probability, will get the starting assignment in the July 6 All-Star game at the Polo grounds in New York city.

Simpson Satisfied With Progress of Local Police Team

Kingston Bluecoats Meet Newburgh Cops Here on Monday, July 13 at Municipal Stadium

"The boys are certainly rounding into shape for the big game," said Captain James V. Simpson, manager of the Kingston Police ball squad, today when questioned if his team will be ready for the Newburgh Bluecoats Monday, July 13, when the annual classic will be staged at the municipal stadium.

This year Manager Simpson has some extra help to select his starting lineup. Lieut. Fred Stoudt, the No. 1 flinger on the squad, will again do the mound duty. Should Stoudt fail to last, Simpson can call on Frank "Bing" Van Etten who has become a member of the force. "Bing" played with the Kingston Recreations last year for a spell. Van Etten, although he played most of his innings at first base, is a handy hurler to have around.

In the other part of the battery department, the local Bluecoats have additional help set for Len Relyea, veteran backstopper. Bill Messing, another player who has seen service in the City League, may divide the duties with Relyea. The game promises to be one of the best in the historic series between the Mid-Hudson cities, and word from Newburgh is to the effect "Practice all you like, we'll cop the game (no pun intended) anyway."

"Oh, yeah," said Manager Simpson in reply.

Dodgerettes Score 15 to 2 Victory

Meb Lynch's Club Wins Over Manhattans

Meb Lynch's Pleasure Yacht Dodgerettes Scored another Women's City Softball League victory last night at Barmann Park by registering a 15 to 2 triumph over the Manhattan lassies.

Louise Leonard and Julia McArdle blasted out two hits apiece for the winners. In all the Dodgerettes hammered Connie Perry for a total of 14 hits. Miss Perry did all right by herself, however, as she picked up two bingles. Eileen Van Buren and Lois Crosswell worked on the mound for the winners with Betty White doing the catching. Perry and Ray Demming formed the battery for the Manhattans.

Recreations Play Havana, Cuba, Stars Tonight in Attraction at Municipal Stadium Under Lights

Whitey Tulacz Is Expected to Hurl for Locals; Sell-Out Crowd Is in Prospect

It will be the famous Cuban Stars of Havana at the municipal stadium tonight against the Kingston Recreations. The Cubans always make a colorful attraction with their peppery line of chatter and interest in the fray indicates one of the biggest turnout of fans this season. Game time will be 9 o'clock.

Manager Joe Hoffman expects to pin his hopes on Whitey Tulacz, who has carved himself two victories this year but has been on the shelf since the General Electric game, May 30. Hoffman also will have Bill Thomas and possibly Don Hempe around for any relief chores. This will be the Recs' final tune-up before the big twin-bill against the Bushwicks Sunday.

In all probability, this will be the biggest assignment for the Recreations this year.

'Showboat' Thomas Here

The Cubans, who have Dave "Showboat" Thomas, the real Fanny Dan on first base this year, also boast of other outstanding players who have made their name in baseball. Jose Fernandez, the manager, is one of the real veterans with the club and he may catch tonight. The Cubans, who play all their games on the road, won 132 last year while dropping 42 decisions.

Perhaps the greatest department of the Cubans is the pitching staff which includes the veteran Silvino

Ruiz, Dave Cruz, Impe Barnhill, Leroy Matlock, Bill Anderson, Loro Escalante and Tommy Saxon. Ruiz, who held the St. Louis Cardinals to five hits a few years ago in a spring training game, won 21 and lost eight last year. He's getting on in years but is still a tough flinger. It is expected that either Cruz or Anderson will do the hurling tonight against the Recreations.

The infield for the Cubans consists of Thomas on first, Heuberto Blanco at second, Horacio Martinez at short and Roosevelt Cox at third. Cox is the only newcomer on the inner defense list. Juan Valgas, Alfonso Dunn and L. C. Williams will hold down the outfield posts.

Imposing Record

The Cubans boast of recent victories over the All Phillies, Bushwicks, Jim Barton's Nighthawks, Bay Parkways, Springfield Grays, Cedarhurst and the Elites. The club has been coming to the states for the last 25 years and is always a big favorite with the fans of the city they play in.

Manager Joe Hoffman, who has selected Tulacz to do the hurling tonight, realizes his club has a big job on hand. In last Wednesday's game against Albany, the team showed something of breaking out of the batting slump, which is good news. Ralph Coleman, Dick Whitesell, Manny Gomez and Jimmy Girvan all had a hand in the batting parade.

Only one change is expected to be made tonight. Frankie San Filippo, who is sporting a .428 batting average, is expected to take over in left field for Tommy Maines, who can't break loose from his terrific slump. Maines' average has dropped to .130. The tentative lineups for tonight's contest:

Nine Yankees Are Selected to Play in All-Star Game

Chicago, June 26 (AP)—Plenty of seasoned American League campaigners and a new crop of Yankees await the National League's July 6 at New York when they will renew their annual mid-season feud, the all star baseball classic.

Fourteen of the squad of 22 players announced yesterday by William Harridge, league president, were members of the 1941 winning combination, even to the leading principal—Edgar Smith of Chicago's White Sox, the winning pitcher, and Boston's Ted Williams, whose ninth inning home run brought the junior circuit its sixth triumph in nine games.

If veterans like these fail to respond, Joe McCarthy, who will manage the American League, can call on his Yankees. A total of nine Yankees, including Joe Gordon, the league's top slugger, three other repeaters from 1941 and five newcomers, made the squad.

In fact, rival managers thought so much of Yankee talent that along with the veteran Bill Dickey, they named New York's second string catcher, Buddy Rosar.

The American League squad, in the order of finish in the voting is as follows:

Pitchers—Ernie Bonham and Charlie Ruffing, Yankees; Al Benjamin, Tigers; Spurgeon Chandler, Yankees; Tex Hughson, Red Sox; Sid Hudson, Senators; Ed Smith, White Sox; Jim Bagby, Indians; Hal Newhouse, Tigers.

Catchers—Bill Dickey and Buddy Rosar, Yankees; George Tebbetts, Tigers.

Infielders—Lou Boudreau, Indians; Bobby Doerr, Red Sox; Joe Gordon, Yankees; Ken Keltner, Indians; Rudy York, Tigers; George McQuinn, Browns; and Phil Rizzuto, Yankees.

Outfielders—Ted Williams, Red Sox; Joe DiMaggio, Yankees; Dom DiMaggio, Red Sox; Tom Henrich, Yankees; Bob Johnson, Athletics; and Stan Spence, Senators.

Seven Dodgers Selected On 1942 All-Star Team

Giants Place Four Men on Squad; Melton and Marshall Chosen; Mel Ott Named

New York, June 26 (AP)—The National League announced a strong all-star squad today with seven of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the cast that will face the American League's best at the Polo Grounds July 6.

The selections of the eight managers of the senior circuit included some surprises—such as the choice of Walker Cooper of the St. Louis Cardinals and Rookie Outfielder Willard Marshall of the New York Giants while passing up infielders Stan Hack of the Chicago Cubs and Billy Jurgens of the Giants—but the strength of the squad could not be questioned.

Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers, who will lead this year's National League array by virtue of winning last year's pennant, will have all of his own regulars in the fold except First Baseman Dolph Camilli and Outfielder Dixie Walker.

Camilli, last year's most valuable player and leading home run slugger, has been far below par in batting this season although still among the home run leaders. The first basemen chosen were big John Mize of the Giants and Frank McCormick of the Cincinnati Reds.

Durocher could start Whitlow Wyatt on the mound, Mickey Owen catching, Billy Herman at second, Peeewe Reese at short, Arky Vaughan on third and Joe Medwick and Pete Reiser in the outfield—all Dodgers.

Next most numerous among the selections were the Cardinals with five men, headed by the Brothers Cooper—Pitcher Morton and Catcher Walker—plus Infielder Jimmy Brown and Outfielders

Terry Moore and Enos Slaughter, Ray Starr Ignored

The mound staff will be dominated by Cincinnati with Paul Derringer, Bucky Walters and Johnny Vander Meer all named, but there may be some eyebrows lifted at the selection of Derringer, with three victories and four defeats, while ignoring Rookie Ray Starr of the same team, who has won 10 while losing only three.

Completing the corps of seven pitchers are Claude Passeau, the only member of the Chicago Cubs named, and Lefty Cliff Melton of the New York Giants. Manager Mel Ott of the Giants also was named, along with Mize and Marshall, giving New York four places on the squad.

The Boston Braves will be represented by Catcher Ernie Lombardi and Shortstop Eddie Miller, leaving Chicago with Passeau, Pittsburgh with Third Baseman Bob Elliott, and Philadelphia with Outfielder Danny Litwhiler as the only clubs to land just one representative.

The necessity of awarding at least one position to every club in the league likely caused the choice of Elliott over the veteran Hack of the Cubs, who has been on three of the last four teams and who is outitting the Pittsburgher by several points.

On the other hand the Pirates had been generally expected to place their hard-hitting catcher, Babe Phelps, with his .381 batting average. In selecting Walker Cooper, hitting around .280, the managers also passed by Rookie Ray Lamanno of Cincinnati, who has been hitting about .325.

Jurgens isn't picked. In choosing Reese, with a .240 average, for shortstop, the managers overlooked the Giants' Jurgens, who has made only one error in 22 consecutive games and whose batting average of .280 is the highest of any shortstop in the league.

Three of the players named—Ott, Medwick and Herman—have been on every all-star squad since 1934, missing only the inaugural game at Chicago in 1933. Seven others are on the team for the first time—the Coopers, Brown, Melton, Marshall, Reese and Litwhiler.

Durocher chose Manager Bill McKeechie of Cincinnati and Manager Frank Frisch of Pittsburgh for his coaches and later will name a batting practice pitcher and catcher and a trainer.

Free Parking for Cyclists
New York, June 26 (AP)—Add gas rationing effects: Bicycle racks are being set up at 10 stations of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad in Westchester county and Connecticut, offering free parking to commuters who pedal from their homes to trains for New York city.

Rookies Trim Esopus
The Barnhart Rookies scored a 13 to 9 victory over the Wilkewitz School of Esopus tossers Wednesday at Barnhart Park. Jim How and rapped out three for four and "Doc" Wells picked up a brace of hits. Tom Rizzi and Wells formed the winning battery.

More Volunteer Workers Needed For Bond Drive
More workers are needed as minute men in the War Bond and Stamp Pledge Campaign which is now being conducted in the city, it was announced today. The more workers on the project the more quickly the results will be gathered. Since this campaign is the only way in which the United States Treasury Department will be able to find an estimated amount that the government may expect, it is most important that this task be done thoroughly.

Additional captains have volunteered their services and are Frank O'Neill, Miss Adisla Conro, Miss Sadie Lutz, Mrs. Julia Meyers, the Rev. John B. Skeete, Mrs. Ralph Gregory, Miss Gladys Silkworth, Mrs. William Lunney and Mrs. Frederic Holcomb.

The city has been divided into zones similar to those used at the time of the housing canvass and many of the workers who participated at that time have again taken charge in this campaign. However, still more are needed to lighten the burden in some of the more thickly populated sections of the city. Especially men are asked to volunteer for this service which must be completed immediately.

All volunteers are asked to contact Mrs. Ray E. Dumond at the Volunteer Office, 247 Clinton avenue, telephone, 1125.

LaLima Registers 564 Triple Score In Victory Loop

Flying Tigers Capture First Place in Summer Bowling League at Central Recreation Alleys

In the third week of the Victory Bowling League at the Central Recreation alleys last night the Flying Tigers captured their straight games from the Blenheims and vaulted into undisputed possession of first place with a record of seven victories and two defeats in the nine games rolled to date.

However, the big upset last night took place when the Flying Fortresses, an underdog team in the loop this summer, came to life and blasted out three games in a row over the Douglas Bombers.

Nick LaLima was the big gun in the three victories when he cracked a 564 triple, the highest rolled last night. LaLima posted scores of 210, 163 and 191. The Fortresses, by winning gained third place in the league standings.

It was a tough night for the Bombers who were set to take all three from the Fortresses and thereby put themselves into a high position. Jake Senor anchor for the club, found himself in the last game with five straight strikes.

More a hit in the sixth left the seven pin standing. After that Senor couldn't get started again and finished with a 201 single.

The Flying Tigers, who rapped out a 1602 team triple, had all three bowlers hitting above 500. Johnny Frederick led the way with 547 with Phil Gaffney and Frank Leski following with 532 and 523 scores. Frederick's 211 single was the highest last night.

The Tigers blasted out a 590 team single in the initial game. Frank Ackley's 503 triple and 194 single along with Fred Ferraro's 194 single score, helped the Tomahawks take two games from the Hurricanes. Orv Van Alstyne posted a 490 triple for the losers.

Tony Van Gonsic paced the Wildcats into second place, a game behind the Tigers, by winning all three from the Spitfires. Van Gonsic poured out scores of 551, 184 and 175 for an acceptable 520 triple. Charlie Boice had 517, Boice's 195 single was high in the match. D. Keyser rolled 431 for the losers.

In a postponed match last night, the Douglas Bombers won two games from the Spitfires. Jake Senor led the way with a 476 triple followed by R. Otto's 472. Larry Marino of the Spitfires came through with the high single in the match with 209. In all, the Spitfires dropped five games last night and as a result slipped to the bottom of the league standings. However, the club isn't through by any means in the race which goes on until early September.

Central Hudson Gets Award in "Ad" Campaign

National recognition has been given the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation in a nationwide radio advertising competition, conducted by the Public Utilities Advertising Association.

Competing with utility companies throughout the United States, the Central Hudson company received the Second National Award of Merit, which was presented to Vernon E. Shepherd of Poughkeepsie, the company's advertising manager, on June 23 at the Hotel Commodore, New York, during the association's annual convention.

This distinction was accorded to the Central Hudson Family News program which is broadcast by Carol Collier of the company's personnel over Station WKIP in Poughkeepsie, WGNV in Newburgh, and WKNY in Kingston.

The radio competition was conducted as part of the 1942 Better Copy Contest of the Public Utilities Advertising Association, a division of the Advertising Federation of America. Mr. Shepherd has been advertising manager for the Central Hudson company for about six years and previously was in charge of its merchandising displays.

Miss Carol Collier, whose home is in Highland, is a graduate of New Paltz State Teachers College and completed a special course in voice training at Vassar College.

Leonard Pays With Life in Michigan

F. B. I. Fugitive Is Killed in Revolver Duel

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 26 (AP) Madcap James McCartee Leonard, 22, who was reckless to the end, paid with his life for his spree with stolen guns and automobiles.

Trapped in a hotel room here yesterday, the handsome curly-haired Cheboygan youth was shot to death by City Detective Frank Breen in a typical wild-west climax to his lurid 24-hour escapade.

The detective, unharmed in the firing, won a gun duel during which he and the young Great Lakes seaman, a fugitive from the F. B. I., exchanged more than a dozen shots at a range of only a few feet.

Authorities traced Leonard to the hotel after he had been sought since Wednesday, when he had terrorized employees in the federal building in Detroit with wild shots while fleeing from an F. B. I. agent trying to question his wearing of a U. S. Navy uniform.

Commandeering automobiles in his flight and in possession of the F. B. I. agent's gun, Leonard came to Grand Rapids late that night and got a hotel room for a hide-out. On his flight he also had stolen a Northville policeman's gun after commandeering the officer's car.

To the end Leonard defied officers to arrest him. Refusing to open his locked door, he shot it out with Detective Breen when the police entered with a pass key.

Struck by Auto
Shirley Doyle of Maple Lane Farm, Albany avenue, while riding a bicycle shortly after 9 o'clock this morning at Maiden Lane and Fair street, was struck by an auto driven by Samuel Weisberg of 11 Landman avenue. Mr. Weisberg took the girl to the office of Dr. C. B. Van Gansbeek where it was found she had suffered an injured ankle.

Each soldier during his first year of service requires 200 pounds of wool, representing the fleece of 26 sheep.

Keep our boys tiptop by putting the U. S. O. drive over the top.

Diplomat Dies

JOHN W. GARRETT

Baltimore, June 26 (AP)—John W. Garrett, United States ambassador to Italy from 1929 to 1933, died today at his home in Baltimore.

Garrett, who was 70 last month, had been in failing health for a year.

A career diplomat of independent means, Garrett served variously as secretary to the embassies in the Hague, Berlin and Rome and as minister to Venezuela, Argentina and Holland.

He served as chairman of a commission which negotiated an agreement between the United States and Germany on treatment of prisoners of the World War.

terial organs had been badly crushed and mangled. Coroner Cardie found that death was due to having been run over by a truck or automobile, driver or drivers unknown and that criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle was involved.

Besides his wife, Kathryn Tremper Gray, he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Edward Carpenter of Stratford, Conn., Miss Grace Gray of New Canaan, Conn., and Mrs. Helen Dillingham of New York.

Funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Ernest A. Kelly Funeral Home on 111 West Chester street. Burial will be in the family plot in Port Ewen Cemetery.

Consultation Center to Be Set Up at High School

A consultation center will be set up at the Kingston High School by Miss Margaret Schuetz and Miss Clara Smith of the Home-Making Department. It was announced today. The center will be open from June 29 to July 17 from 2 to 4 o'clock each Monday through Friday.

The purpose of this new venture is to aid any homemaker with such problems as:

- Remodeling Closets

Basic 'Gas' Unit To Be 4 Gallons In Eastern States

presented in person to local boards.

The A book is intended to allow 1080 miles for "family purposes" and the remaining 1800 for driving to and from work or for business use. Thus any A-card motorist, in order to get a B or C card in addition, must prove his occupational driving exceeds 1,800 miles a year.

Car-Pooling Needed

The other prime requirement—and one which O. P. A. has indicated it intends to enforce fully—is membership in a car-pooling club of at least four persons, car-owners or non-owners. Failing to join such a club, the applicant must prove that he cannot carry three other persons but is hauling as many as possible and that other means of transportation are inadequate.

Registrars will issue D cards, for motorcycles, at the time of registration for A cards.

The 16-coupon B book will be good for 320 miles of additional driving a month.

Motorists applying for a C book must prove that they are "essential to the war effort and to the public welfare."

The C book will be issued for three-month periods. Although a full book will contain 96 coupons, local boards will "tailor" it by tearing out coupons to fit the applicant's needs.

The B book can be "tailored" also. It contains 16 coupons calling for four gallons each and is intended for at least three months' use. The time covered by the book, over and above the three months' minimum, will be governed by the actual mileage need of the holder and the expiration date will be stated on the book.

Application for another supplemental B book can be made within 30 days prior to the expiration date.

The 48 coupons in the basic A and D books are in six sheets of eight coupons each. Motorists can use each sheet only in the two months period for which it is issued. Thus they may obtain 32 gallons at one time, but can get no more until the next period. Unused coupons become void when the period expires.

There are no special supplemental D books. However, boards are empowered to issue extra D coupons to motorists on the basis of need. The D coupons are good for 1 1/2 gallons each.

Under the program there are no unexpired "X" cards in the present temporary setup. However, the regulations provide for issuance of "S-1" and "S-2" cards for trucks, busses, taxis, ambulances, government-owned vehicles and those considered essential to the maintenance of domestic economy.

The S-1 book has 96 five-gallon coupons and the S-2 book 384 five-gallon coupons. They will be issued for four months' needs. New books may be issued before the end of the four-months' period in case of emergencies.

Unified Command Predicted

London, June 26 (AP)—Quick creation of a unified command to weld American, British and Canadian forces into a coordinated fighting team for a blow against the European continent was predicted today by qualified quarters.

To these observers, the arrival of Maj. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as commander in the European theatre of operations for American forces, meant one thing: The stage of preliminary planning has passed to a phase of active preparation for using the powerful armies assembled in Britain. Some said the new commander's name was a significant symbol, for "Eisenhower" in German means "iron beater."

Bar Association To Offer Tribute

All members of the Ulster County Bar Association are urged to attend the session of Supreme Court next Monday morning, June 29, at 11 o'clock, which will be presided over by Justice Harry E. Schirick.

At that time the committee of the Ulster County Bar Association consisting of Charles W. Walton, chairman; Roscoe V. Elsworth, Joseph M. Fowler and Andrew J. Cook, Sr., will present the formal resolutions of tribute of the association in memory of the late Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck, a former president of the Ulster County Bar Association.

Anglo Planes Raid Bremen

the strain. Gasoline and other supplies for the Axis mechanized forces must be hauled across 200 miles of desert from Rommel's nearest base, at Tobruk, and from Bengasi, another 200 miles farther west.

1,000 Planes Hit Bremen

As the three-day-old battle of Egypt flamed to a crescendo, an R.A.F. armada of "over 1,000" bombers thundered over Germany before dawn today to smash at Bremen, Hitler's second largest manufacturing center, and left fires leaping against the skies.

London dispatches said the force compared in size, if it did not actually surpass, the 1,130-plane assault which devastated Cologne on May 30 and the 1,036-plane attack on Essen two nights later.

Bremen, with a population of 500,000, is a big U-boat construction base and also a center of railways, oil refineries, steel works and long-range bomber factories.

An R.A.F. communiqué acknowledged 52 planes missing, the heaviest toll of any single night but below five per cent—less than half of the 10 per cent "success" margin.

It was the third four-figure raid on Germany's vital war foundries in less than a month and marked the resumption of the R.A.F.'s city-by-city campaign of destruction after bad weather had kept the bombers at home for two nights.

On the Soviet war front, the Russians conceded a dangerous German advance below Kharkov in the Ukraine, but declared that Red army defenders still held stoutly in the 22-day-old battle of Sevastopol.

A bulletin from Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's headquarters said the Germans had captured Kopyansk, 60 miles southeast of Kharkov, and added tersely:

"Our troops continued fighting against advancing German Fascist troops."

Soviet reserves were reported racing up to combat the new German threat as it became apparent that Field Marshal Gen. Fedor von Bock hoped to score a deep breakthrough in the Kopyansk sector to disrupt Soviet communications to the south and pave the way for a German drive against Rostov, northern gateway to the Caucasus oil treasures.

Hitler's field headquarters said German and Rumanian troops, executing a familiar "encirclement movement," had captured 21,827 Russians in the Kopyansk fighting, as well as 100 tanks, 250 guns and other booty.

Russia's heroic defense of Sevastopol, the Crimean key to a short-cut route into the Caucasus, won acknowledgement from the Nazi command, which again emphasized the "hard fighting," but asserted that Axis shock troops had captured several more fortified heights.

Soviet dispatches said the German onslaught was hitting a stone-wall at a sacrifice of five-to-one in manpower.

"Our troops beat off many attacks," Sevastopol headquarters reported briefly.

"Artillerymen in the last few days have turned back more than 30 attacks by superior enemy forces, killing about 500 Germans."

Witness to Tokyo Raid Said People Were Scared

Ankara, June 26 (AP)—An eyewitness to the United States air attack on Tokyo last April 18, who was in a Tokyo street when the raid occurred, said today the Japanese were thrown into panic and depressed by the feeble defense.

The story was told by a national of a neutral country who has just arrived here.

"The daylight raid," he said, "was a complete surprise and shook the people's confidence as the government had boasted that American planes would never be seen over the capital."

"Tokyo's close-packed, highly-inflammable buildings were spared as the planes went on to bomb targets between the capital and Yokohama and other important industrial centers."

He said foreigners were not permitted outside of Tokyo to inspect the damage which, he said, apparently was heavy.

"I was on the street when the bombers came over," he related. "Sirens sounded and red warning flags and balloons went up."

"Many persons showed panic, rushing for cover."

"I heard no anti-aircraft guns. Japanese pursuit planes were outdistanced."

"Some Japanese commented on the superiority of the American aircraft. Japanese newspapermen, questioned why the Japanese could not locate where the planes came from and intercept them, replied that they flew too fast and too high."

"The people insisted that Japan was going to win the war, but I got the impression that they were much afraid of the United States. The press spoke of a long war and some people talked of it lasting ten years."

To Support Wicks

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, is expected to receive full approval and support at the unofficial Greene county Republican convention to be held at Cairo on Monday. Senator Wicks is now recognized as one of the state's leading senators and only recently was chosen chief of the state's "Little Byrd" commission to hunt government economies.

Senator Wicks recently received the full approval of the unofficial Ulster county Republican convention held here on June 20.

Central Hudson Dividend

E. R. Acker, president of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, announced that the directors at their regular monthly meeting, held today, declared the usual preferred stock dividend of $1.12 1/2 per share, payable July 1, 1942, and the usual dividend of 17 cents a share on the common stock, payable August 1, 1942.

No Ban Expected On County's Fair

One-Day Event Is Likely to Be Held This Year

Albert Kurdt, secretary of the Ulster County Agricultural Society, said that in his opinion such a gathering as the Ulster county fair and farmers' picnic—a one-day's outing in which the transportation problem amounts to almost nothing—would be "about the last thing to be shut down, especially in view of Mr. Eastman's modification of his original statement."

He added, "I am sure that the directors of the Agricultural Society will cooperate in any official ruling which is in the interest of the war effort."

Mr. Kurdt observed that attendance at the annual outing was largely on the part either of persons who combined a visit to the fair with a shopping trip to Kingston, or business men and residents of the city itself.

As far as exhibitors were concerned, he said, a large portion of Home Bureau and 4-H Club exhibits were brought to Forsyth Park in private cars, the bulk of the heavy exhibits coming from within a few miles of Kingston, while in most cases cattle and horses shown can be walked in to the fair grounds.

So far, it was stated, directors have been going ahead with plans for the fair. Premium lists have been sent out and some entries already have been received.

However, should official orders be received to cancel the farmers' outing the directors could be assembled and word sent out within 24 hours calling off the fair.

New Teachers Are Appointed To Serve in City Schools

Another resignation was received Thursday evening by the Board of Education and steps were taken to fill vacancies. Many teachers have already been called into service and in addition several teachers have tendered resignations.

Mary M. Anderson of the high school faculty has resigned in order to join her husband, who is in service in Texas. Her resignation was accepted with regret. Trustee Rowland reported the following appointments to fill vacancies and the board approved the appointments.

Mary A. Kelly, graduate of New Rochelle College in 1934 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and for three years at the West Hurley elementary school and for one year at East Kingston, was given an appointment in the elementary schools of the city at a salary of $1,400 beginning in September. She has been a substitute here.

Elsie M. Brown, graduate of New Paltz Normal, 1935, with three years experience at Oliveira and two years experience as a substitute in the Kingston schools, was given a contract to teach in the elementary schools at a salary of $1,325 beginning in September.

Miss Violet E. Schmalkuche of New Paltz, a graduate of Syracuse University in 1940, with the degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts, with two years experience teaching at Binghamton Central High School, was appointed a teacher of fine arts in the Kingston public schools at a salary of $1,600 beginning in September.

Miss Mildred C. Byrne was appointed as teacher in the elementary schools at a salary of $1,100. Miss Blanche Kirschenblum, graduate of New York State College for Teachers, 1941, with degree of Bachelor of Arts, was appointed substitute teacher of English in the high schools, beginning in September at a salary of $1,400.

Mr. Theodore R. Conwicks, now teaching at Perry, New York, a graduate of Arnold College of Physical Education, year 1930, holding a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education and with graduate work at Cornell University, and with six years' experience as teacher of physical education and athletic coach at Gowanda, New York, and six years of teaching physical education and athletic director and coach at Perry, New York, was given an appointment as member of the physical education staff of the Kingston public schools, beginning September, 1942.

In addition to giving instruction in physical education, it is understood that Mr. Conwicks shall be head coach of football until such time as Thomas Weems, present head coach of football, is released from the military service, and again reports to take up his work as a member of the Kingston High School faculty.

Mr. Conwicks' salary shall be at the rate of $2,600 per year.

Theodore R. Conwicks was graduated from Ansonia, Connecticut High School in 1925 and from the Arnold College of Physical Education, New Haven, Connecticut, with a Bachelor of Physical Education degree in 1929, and a Bachelor of Science degree in 1930. He has taken graduate work at the University of Buffalo and at Cornell University.

Mr. Conwicks is married and has three children.

While in college he played varsity football, hockey and soccer, and also was a member of the gym team. He played professional football in the Connecticut League and was chosen an all-star half-back on the mythical 11 in 1928 and 1929.

He has had experience as a playground director and athletic director at Norwalk, Connecticut, and also has been a director of playgrounds in Gowanda, N. Y., and at Perry, N. Y.

He has been very active in boy scouting and has been a scoutmaster, a boy scout troop committee member and chairman for camping of the Genesee Council.

He began coaching at Gowanda, N. Y., where his track team was county champion in 1931, football champions in 1931 and runners up in 1933 and 1936. The basketball team was champion of the Western Division of Cattaraugus county in 1935-36 and runners up in 1931-32 and 1932-33.

His softball team was county champion in 1934, 1935 and 1936 and his tennis team was county champion in 1936. All this was in Cattaraugus county.

At Perry, New York, located in Wyoming county, his football team has been county champions from 1936 to 1941 inclusive. The Perry High School football team was champion of Wyoming, Livingston and Allegany counties in 1938 and 1939. In 1939 the Perry High School football team defeated the Rochester area champions to become the Tri-County champions.

The team was recognized by the "Buffalo Evening News" as western New York football champions in 1939 and 1940. The team turned in a record of 19 consecutive victories from 1938 through 1940.

The Perry High School basketball team was county champions in 1940-41 and runners up in 1936-37 and 1937-38.

The tennis team was champion of the county in 1936.

Credit Is Allowed
A credit of $135.73 was made by the Pardee Insurance Company to the board on a liability insurance policy because of the good record made. The credit is known as an "experience credit," and is given because of the small number of claims made.

A bid of $632 for conversion of one boiler in the high school from oil to coal was received. This was for new grates and did not include installation. It was deemed wise to await future developments in the oil situation before spending that sum.

Extension Service Group Is in Rubber Campaign

About 250 extension service Minute Men are playing an important part in the scrap rubber collection campaign in Ulster county. The extension Minute Men were appointed by the central committee of the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau and 4-H Club Association of which C. C. DuMont of Ulster Park is chairman, and are prepared to disseminate and gather any authentic information for the rural people of the county. Most of the Minute Men received the notice announcing the campaign by mail, Monday, June 15. They have been busy ever since spreading information about the importance of the drive and urging all farmers and other rural residents to gather every bit of scrap rubber and turn it in at the nearest filling station.

There is still time to gather additional scrap rubber as the campaign does not close until Tuesday, June 30.

The township chairman of extension Minute Men are also organizing the War Bond Pledge Campaign under the direction of Harold S. Brigham, county chairman for the treasury department. This drive is now also getting underway.
